Senate Defeats Tax Cut Plans

Guatemala Peace Conference Launched

Junta Leader, Rebels' Chief Fly To Parley

Troops Sent To Area Where Reds Reported Plotting Farm Revolt

GUATEMALA, June 30 (AP)—The anti-Communist ruling junta rushed troops today to Escuintla, a hotbed of communism 30 miles south of Guatemala City, where a top Red leader was reported plotting an uprising among farm workers.

Other Communist and leftist chiefs still at large also were reported bent on stirring up troubles.

These reports came as Col. Elfego Monzon, junta leader, and the rebel chief, Col. Carlos Castillo Armas, both intensely anti-Red flew to neighboring neutral El Salvador for their peace conference. The Salvador talks are expected to give this country its fourth government in less than a week.

Among those meeting the planes of the rival leaders at San Salvador was U.S. Ambassador Michael McDermott.

Guatemala City Joyous

Guatemala City was calm and joyous today with the 12-day shooting conflict halted under a ceasefire.

For the first time in weeks the radios were playing American jazz —even the former Communist station. The main cloud on the horizon appeared to be the threatened trouble at Escuintla, which long has been regarded as a center of Communists to subversion.

Some uprisings also have developed among Red-indoctrinated farm workers. Word reached here today that a police chief was stoned to death yesterday near the village of Pinula. Trouble also was reported at Concepcion, near Escuintla.

Roundup Of Reds Continues

The junta continued its roundup of Communists and pro-Communists who were a mainstay of the regime of Jacobo Arbenz Guzman. He resigned as president Sunday night under army pressure.

A heavy guard was thrown around the Mexican embassy, where some top Reds and officials of the old junta government were still refugees.

Two ousted police officials of the Arbenz regime, Rogello Cruz Wer and Maj. Jaime Rosenberg, were reported to have fled from refuge in the Argentina Embassy and were being pursued by the army. They are regarded as leaders of a widespread blood purge the pro-Communists waged while in power and are among the men most wanted by the anti-Communist authorities.

Laredo, Tex., Isolated By Flood Waters

Flood waters yesterday isolated Laredo, Tex., the nation's biggest inland border port, and a raging creek sliced the town in half. The above picture, looking down Main Street, was taken yesterday. In the background can be seen the high tool house structure of Nueva Laredo, Mexico. The roof of the U. S. toll house can be seen in center foreground.

Pentagon Denies Two McCarthy Aides Clearance

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP)—Two staff members of the McCarthy Investigations subcommittee have been refused clearance by the Defense Department to inspect secret material, senators on the subcommittee said today. Names of the two were not announced.

The subcommittee also announced receipt of a report from the Army on the case of former Maj. Irving Peress, New York City dentist, whom Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) has called a "Fifth Amendment Communist." The report deals with Peress' promotion and honorable discharge last February.

Officers Believed Disciplined

Sen. Mundt (R-SD), who acted as chairman of the subcommittee in its televised Army-McCarthy hearings, said a letter from Army Secretary Stevens implied that some officers have been disciplined in connection with the handling of the Peress matter.

He said the secretary's letter indicated the promotion and discharge was "a mistake that grew out of the mechanics" of Army processing and that corrective steps have been taken to prevent a recurrence.

Documents Given To McCarthy

Mundt said both the report on the Peress case and a letter from Wilber M. Brucker, Defense Department general counsel, on the two staff employes, are being turned over to McCarthy. The latter stepped down from the subcommittee chairmanship during the hearings, and any further action would be up to the regular group, Mundt added.

The South Dakotan said he is advising McCarthy (presumably his office) that subcommittee members feel he should call the regular group together to examine the two matters.

Anti-Spy Bill Approved

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP)—The House Judiciary Committee today approved a bill providing the death penalty for peacetime espionage, and requiring the registration of foreign saboteurs and spies.

Nine Wounded

Mental Patient Loses Gun Battle To Police

INDIANAPOLIS, June 30 (AP)—A mental patient was killed by police in his shabby living room today after a 2½ hour gun battle in which his accurate rifle and shotgun fire wounded eight policemen and his wife.

The end came when an armored car roared across the back yard to his West Side bungalow and three heavily armed officers leaped through the back door for the second time

Howard Ellis, 64, was riddled with submachine gun and pistol bullets as he fired at the trio, then managed one last, harmless round into the ceiling as he fell dead.

The berserk man had held off more than 50 policemen using every bit of firepower they could muster. There were two armored cars on the scene. The dirty white, one-story house was splintered by thousands of rounds of ammunition and filled with teargas.

The officers had won their entry through the back door a half hour earlier but had to retreat after running out of ammunition. The second time the flushed bluecoats—Inspector Russell Carmichael, Sgt. Thomas Harlowe and Patrolman W. D. Sullivan—signalled through a window it was all over.

Wife Told Husband Dead

At General Hospital Ellis' wife, Janie, was told her husband was dead.

"It just had to be that way," she said softly. She was in fair condition in a ward with gunshot wounds in the left thigh and hand.

She told police that Ellis, a Central State Hospital mental patient on leave, had gone berserk about 11 a.m.

He returned home this morning and began beating one of the five Welfare Department wards for whom the Ellises cared. Mrs. Ellis said he became enraged when she threatened to call the hospital and have him recommitted.

Mrs. Ellis fled to the home of a neighbor, Mrs. Donna Yates, and called the hospital and police. She returned home as Ellis emerged from their chicken house, shotgun and 22 rifle in hand.

Two Shots Hit Wife

Mrs. Ellis said she fled but two shots hit her, in the left thigh and left hand.

Patrolman John Yates said he and Lt. Paul Pearsey, 60, arrived and found Ellis crouching behind a utility pole outside the house. Ellis fired two blasts from a shotgun, wounding Pearsey seriously in the chest, head, arm and hand.

"We could have got him then," Yates said later, "but there were a bunch of kids there (in the yard)."

From the house, Ellis began a steady stream of gunfire. Police reinforcements arrived and four officers were picked off, three as they rescued a wounded comrade.

All four were reported in fair condition at General Hospital.

Patrolman Paul White, 39, was reported in critical condition with chest and neck wounds, and another officer, Merlin Lyon, 38, was in serious condition with a wound in the right side.

Western Electric Strike Set Today

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP) — A strike of 16,000 Western Electric Co. telephone installation workers has been scheduled for 6 a.m. local time tomorrow in 43 states and the District of Columbia.

Strike plans were announced tonight by the CIO Communications Workers of America (CWA). A labor contract between the union and Bell system subsidiaries expired May 3.

Only five New England states are unaffected by the strike threat, they are Massachusetts, Maine, Rhode Island, Vermont and New Hampshire.

The CWA spokesman said Western Electric had offered pay increases ranging from four to six cents an hour, conditioned on the union accepting what the union termed "weakening clauses" in previous seniority, travel pay and holiday contract provisions.

Three Aboard Survive Military Plane Crash

GARDEN CITY, N.Y., June 30 (AP)—A C47 military transport plane crashed near Mitchel Air Force Base tonight on its way in for a landing. Police reported three persons aboard and said they survived the crash.

At fire headquarters it was said the two-engined plane came down on the west side of the field and that the craft struck some power lines.

Residents in the area reported their power suddenly went off.

Garden City, an area of tidy private homes, is about 20 miles from midtown New York.

Moscow Claiming Victory In Race To Harness Atom

LONDON, June 30 (AP)—The Soviet Union claimed victory today in the international race to harness the power of the atom for industrial uses. A Moscow broadcast said the Russians have opened a small atomic-engine power station.

It gave no hint as to the location of the station, but said Soviet authorities and engineers are planning the construction of other such plants with capacities from 50,000 to 100,000 kilowatts.

Both the United States and Britain have started work on atomic plants to generate electricity for industry but neither is scheduled for completion for several years. Several other nations, including France and Canada, have announced plans for similar projects.

The Moscow broadcast quoted a statement from the Soviet Council of Ministers as saying the new Russian installation, with a capacity of 5,000 kilowatts, went into operation Sunday producing electrical current for both industry and agriculture.

In New York, electrical industry spokesman said a 5,000-kilowatt plant is small by U.S. standards. They estimated the output of such a station would fill the electricity needs of only about 5,000 average American households, or light about 385 displays like the huge torch atop the Statue of Liberty in New York Harbor.

U.S. Electrical companies now are building equipment for America's first industrial power plant, to be located at Shippingport, Pa., on the Ohio River.

A spokesman for the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission in New York said this 85-million dollar station will have a capacity of 60,000 kilowatts—12 times the capacity claimed for the Russian plant—but still is considered largely an experimental model.

Guatemala Coup Hailed By Dulles As Blow To Reds

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles tonight hailed the overthrow of the pro-Communist government in Guatemala as a "new and glorious" victory over Red encroachments. But he warned that "communism is still a menace everywhere."

In a 15-minute address prepared for nationwide radio - television broadcast, Dulles pledged that the United States would not only oppose communism but would help "alleviate conditions in Guatemala and elsewhere" which might breed communism.

Dulles said the capture by communism of any American state would have established a "new and perilous front" endangering the entire free world.

But he said the situation in Guatemala "is being cured by the Guatemalans themselves" — thereby averting "at least one grave danger" and setting an example "which promises security for the future."

Dulles laid the blame for the leftist bent of the overthrown Guatemalan government directly on the Kremlin. He said Communists seized on the Guatemalan revolution 10 years ago and, in the last few years, "openly connived" with Guatemalan officials.

He said the foreign ministers of Guatemala and the Soviet Union "were in open correspondence and ill concealed privity" (intimate association) in attempting to "disrupt the inter-American system" and take the Guatemalan question before the United Nations Security Council.

President Would Hear Any Appeal By Oppenheimer

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP) — President Eisenhower said today that if Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer wants to appeal to him from the 4-1 Atomic Energy Commission decision that bars him from atomic secrets, he will be heard.

The President added, however, that the commission was made up of men he trusted and that he had sent them last December what he described as a very disturbing report on the famed scientist they have now held to be a security risk.

Eisenhower made his Oppenheimer comments at a fast-moving news conference, his first in two weeks.

The conference ranged from the matter of peaceful coexistence with the Russians to the question of whether Vice President Nixon has been "hurting the Democrats' feelings" and thus imperiling a bipartisan foreign policy.

Appeasement Ruled Out

On getting along with the Russians, Eisenhower said the hope of the world would be that kind of existence. But he said, and he thumped his desk for emphasis, this does not mean appeasement.

He authorized for direct quotation: "I will not be a party to any treaty that makes anybody a slave; now, that is all there is to it."

On Nixon and the Democrats, Eisenhower said his vice president is an admirable man, a great American who normally talks pretty much the language of the administration.

The question of Nixon's speeches came up twice during the conference. First, a reporter recalled that Nixon had made a speech with the thesis that the foreign policy of Secretary of State Acheson in the Truman administration was to blame for the loss of China and from that flowed the war in Korea and the difficulty in Indochina.

Ike Has Three-Point Reply

"The Democrats didn't like it very much," the questioner said.

Eisenhower had a three-point reply: First, each individual is entitled to his own opinions; second, he admires and respects the vice president, and third, his own job is to carry out responsibilities that don't fall on others.

But he said Americans must seek agreements among themselves on foreign policy, because regardless of which party takes over, there must be stability.

Condition Of Truman Shows Improvement

KANSAS CITY, June 30 (AP)—Improvement in the condition of former President Harry S. Truman was reported today by his physicians.

A hospital spokesman said the patient was progressively better than last night; that there had been a progressive improvement in his entertitis (intestinal inflamation), and that he had not received any anti-biotics for the past 36 hours.

Chou Returns To China

TOKYO, Thursday, July 1 (AP)—Premier Chou En-lai returned to Red China yesterday and Peiping radio said he was given a rousing reception in the south China city of Canton.

Crosby In Hospital

SANTA MONICA, Calif., June 30 (AP)—Crooner Bing Crosby entered St. John's Hospital today for a routine checkup he has about once a year, the hospital reported.

ANZUS Nations Call For Alliance

Speedy Action On Asia Pact Urged

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP)—The United States, Australia, and New Zealand called today for "immediate action" to establish a collective defense arrangement in Communist-threatened Southeast Asia.

The three governments jointly issued this call after a meeting of Secretary of State Dulles, Australian Foreign Minister Richard G. Casey and New Zealand Ambassador Leslie K. Munro.

The State Department said "continuing consultations" will go on among the three governments to help speed action in bringing about the anti-Communist alliance Dulles has been urging the last three months.

Britain Less Eager

The statement, approved by the three nations, appeared to put Australia and New Zealand on record as more eager than Great Britain for swift action to block the Communist advance in Southeast Asia.

A statement issued after President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Churchill ended their five-day conference Tuesday said merely that the two governments would "press forward with plans for collective defense."

Nothing was said about "immediate action to bring about the early establishment of collective defense in Southeast Asia," as the American-Australian - New Zealand announcement phrased it today.

Three Nations Concerned

The State Department announcement pointed out that "the three participating countries are vitally concerned" about developments in the region. The statement added:

"The Australian and New Zealand representatives expressed satisfaction with the statement by President Eisenhower and Sir Winston Churchill that plans for collective defense in Southeast Asia should be pressed forward.

"All three representatives at the ANZUS (Australia, New Zealand, United States) meeting agreed on the need for immediate action to bring about the early establishment of collective defense in Southeast Asia—an area in which the three participating countries are all vitally concerned."

Scores Reported Killed By Flood In Mexican City

EAGLE PASS, Tex., June 30 (AP)—Thirty-eight were known dead tonight as the falling floodwaters of the treacherous Rio Grande drained away from the Mexican city of Piedras Negras.

EAGLE PASS, Tex., June 30 (AP)—The Rio Grande's mightiest rampage left 20 known dead and 200 reported dead today in Piedras Negras, Mexico, and the sheriff here said, "I think the deaths over there will exceed 500."

Piedras Negras is just across the river.

Downstream 100 miles at Laredo and Nuevo Laredo the river began falling after a history-making crest. No deaths were reported on either side of the river there.

Beside the 20 confirmed dead in Piedras Negras there were 16 dead and 2 missing from a flash flood at Ozona, 100 miles inland, and another person known drowned in the Pecos River nearer the Rio Grande. Six more were reported missing near Pandale, West of Ozona.

Laredo Isolated

Laredo, the nation's biggest inland border port, had been isolated by foaming flood waters most of the day. A raging creek sliced the town in half. Late this afternoon limited outgoing traffic began on a state highway still covered with two feet of water.

The Red Cross began giving typhoid shots to an estimated 5,000 persons.

The Southwestern border havoc resulted from weekend cloudbursts that roared down arroyos and surged through the Pecos and Devil's Rivers into the Rio Grande.

Helicopters Rescue 100

Residents of San Ygnacio, a Texas farming village 35 miles south of Laredo, were warned to evacuate today. San Ygnacio is on a bluff, but flood water was beginning to cut around behind the town.

Still 45 miles farther, International Falcon Dam, dedicated only last October, waited to fulfill its mission of safeguarding the rich, citrus-growing lower Rio Grande Valley.

The dirty water already was reaching Falcon's sprawling reservoir.

Across the border from Laredo, the Mexican city of Nuevo Laredo lay seemingly deserted. Communications with the Mexican city were cut off, but helicopters were seen lifting about 100 persons to safety from rooftops.

Traffic Deaths Go Down

CHICAGO, June 30 (AP) — Traffic deaths went down again in May—the fifth month of 1954 to show a drop from the 1953 death toll.

The National Safety Council said today that this is the first time since 1947 that deaths increased during the first five months of the year.

Bill To Lift Atom Lid Is Completed

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP)—The Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee today approved a broad new bill permitting exchange of some nuclear secrets with Allied nations and opening peacetime atomic power to private industry.

The committee completed weeks of consideration with final action at a closed door meeting this afternoon. The vote was unanimous, although some members reportedly reserved the right to oppose portions of the measure on the floor.

Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-NY), the chairman, said he would press for immediate congressional action on the measure, designed to carry out President Eisenhower's atomic program.

The measure was completed shortly after Moscow radio claimed Russia had completed and put in operation the world's first industrial power station using atomic energy, with a capacity of 5,000 kilowatts.

Millions Watch Moon Pass Between Old Sol and Earth

By JOE F. KANE
AP Press Staff Writer

Through eye protectors ranging from smoked basement windows to negatives of family snapshots, millions yesterday watched an eclipse of the sun.

For the sky watchers, it was a once in a lifetime chance to see the moon pass between the sun and the earth.

The eclipse was total in parts of five states, casting a giant shadow as it raced from Nebraska across one third of the world to India. Where weather conditions were favorable, a partial eclipse was visible through most of the United States except in the West.

Alton Blakeslee, Associated Press science reporter who watched the eclipse from a plane over Canada, wrote:

"Suddenly the red-yellow sun flickers out and a minute of rare and awesome beauty is born.

"A black, round moon is centered precisely on our life-giving sun. But there is a new light, beautiful. Eerie, pearly white, glowing around the moinous rim of the moon, shooting two irridescent streamers millions of miles into silent space.

"Near the southwest edge of the sun for a few seconds you see tiny licking red tongues—jets of incandescent hydrogen gas spewing from the heavenly furnace.

". . . for 72 seconds the sun is captive of the moon. It gives but a millionth of the light and heat which are the engines of life on earth. Then, impatiently, the sun seems to thrust aside the moon and its light comes like the flash of an exploding A-bomb."

The most popular eye shield was a layer of developed snapshot negatives. More ingenious watchers used welders' helmets, leftover polaroid glasses from 3-D movies and home-smoked glass.

One family in St. Paul, Minn., watched the big show through a smoked basement window as they huddled together on a hilltop.

GOP And Demo Proposals Fail By 49-46 Votes

Skirmishing Gives Ike, Who Opposes Slash Now, Victory

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP)—The Senate defeated both Republican and Democratic plans for an income tax cut today and thus produced a big victory for the Eisenhower administration, which says the budget can't stand any more such reductions now.

The votes were 49-46 both instances but weren't identical except for the total.

Defeat for the Republican plan came at the hands of 47 Democrats, Sen. Langer (R-ND) and Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore), against a solid lineup of 46 GOP senators.

The Democrats' plan fell before a combination of 45 Republicans and four Democrats—Byrd (Va), Holland (Fla), Robertson (Va), and Johnson (Colo). Supporting it were 43 Democrats, plus Langer, Morse and Young (R-ND).

McCarthy Only Absentee

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) was the only absent senator.

Briefly, here is what the opposing sides maneuvered over in a long and busy session:

The Democratic plan. Offered by Sen. George (D-Ga), it would boost all personal exemptions from $600 to $700, but the tax benefit on each $100 of additional exemption would be limited to $25. Thus, a man and wife with one child could get a reduction of as much as $75 a year.

The Republican plan. Chairman Millikin (R-Colo) of the Senate Finance Committee came up with it only today, in 11th hour strategy to block the George plan. With some exceptions, it would allow an extra $100 exemption for a man, and also his wife, filing a joint return but would not increase the exemption for dependents. The effect would be a $40 reduction to a couple, since the exemption increase would apply only to the lowest taxable income bracket, which carries a 20 per cent rate.

Tax Relief Chances Fade

Also, to meet Democratic criticism that the Republican plan to give tax relief on dividend income was unduly favorable to the wealthy, Millikin proposed to cut down this relief. As it passed the House this provision would eliminate taxes on the first $50 of dividend income, and the taxpayer would rise to $100 and the credit to 10 per cent.

Millikin's late offer was to knock out the second year step and leave the dividend relief at $50 and 5 per cent credit.

Millikin and George agreed in talking to reporters that the two votes had killed any chances of general tax relief in the pending general tax bill.

$3,368,608,000 Foreign Aid Bill Passed By House

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP)—The House approved a $3,368,608,000 foreign aid program today but recommended that help be denied any nation in Southeast Asia which enters into a "Locarno-type' nonaggression treaty with the Communists

President Eisenhower got about 97 per cent of the money he asked for to buttress free nations against the threat of Red aggression during the fiscal year beginning tomorrow.

The House cut only 109 million dollars out of the program before passing the bill on a 260-125 rollcall vote and sending it to the Senate.

It voted 390-0, however, to attach an amendment declaring it to be "the sense of Congress" that not one penny of an 800 million dollar fund authorized for the defense of Southeast Asia be used "on behalf of governments which are committed by treaty to maintain Communist rule over any defined territory of Asia."

Oppenheimer Plans To Stay In His Post

PRINCETON, N. J., June 30 (AP)—Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer said today he plans to stay in his post as director of the Institute of Advanced Study here and continue research in fundamental physics.

"I may not be able to move freely in laboratories, but that has nothing to do with thinking freely," said the scientist, who was barred from access to secret atomic data as a security risk by a 4-1 vote of the Atomic Energy Commission yesterday.

No Appeasement

President Hopes For Peaceful Coexistence With Soviet Union

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP) — President Eisenhower said today the West must find a way to live peacefully with Russia but "I will not be a party to any treaty that makes anybody a slave."

At a news conference, the President made it clear that he is less optimistic than Britain's Prime Minister Churchill about the prospects for working out a "peaceful coexistence" agreement with the Communist world.

Churchill, in ending his confidential talks with Eisenhower Monday, appealed for "a real good try" at arriving at such an understanding in order to avert a horrible atomic war. He expressed the view the Russians "will not throw away such an opportunity."

Eisenhower in talking to reporters, described a peaceful coexistence arrangement with Russia as the hope of the world.

But, he said, Russia's aggressive attitude thus far has prevented building a proper foundation for such an agreement.

In a ringing voice, the President declared he wants to make sure "peaceful coexistence" does not mean appeasement or putting any country in bondage to communism against its will.

To emphasize his views, the President relaxed the usual White House news conference rules and permitted reporters to quote him directly on these words:

"I will not be a party to any treaty that makes anybody a slave."

The President's words appeared to foreshadow American refusal to back or cooperate with any Indochina truce deal which would turn over a big part of Viet Nam to Red control.

In answer to a specific question, however, he refused to rule this out completely, saying he would first have to study any such truce which might be agreed on.

Kemper's Campaign Expense 25 Cents

BALTIMORE, June 30 (AP)—Harry Kemper, the Baltimore grocer who ran for comptroller in the Maryland primaries on Monday today reported his total campaign expense was 25 cents.

He said he spent it for stamps.

Kemper polled about 33,000 votes, to about 180,000 for Comptroller J. Millard Tawes, running for re-election in the Democratic primary.

Kemper's showing was considered amazing, in view of the fact Tawes is so formidable a figure the Republicans decided some time ago not to put a candidate in the field against him in the November general election.

Tawes hasn't reported his campaign expenses yet.

Giant Turtle Now Soup And Steak

BALTIMORE, June 30 (AP)—That 173-pound sea turtle John Makauskas caught and didn't know what to do with is now soup and turtle steak.

Five cooks from a downtown restaurant relieved Makauskas of it in his garage. Makauskas caught the giant turtle. He had been keeping it in his garage. Makauskas caught the turtle on Chincoteague Island over the weekend and brought it home. Then he discovered the zoo had no facilities to house it.

Restauranteur Fred Miller not only removed the turtle but promised Makauskas a steak from it. Miller also promised to return the shell.

Phenix City, Ala., Cleanup Ordered

PHENIX CITY, Ala., June 30 (AP)—With a blunt order for a thorough cleansing of the often-criticized jury lists, a special judge pledged the full might of the state government today to rid Phenix City forever of racketeering.

Said Circuit Judge Walter B. Jones of Montgomery in a brief emergency session of the Circuit Court:

"The intolerable conditions which have long plagued this county and been a shame and a reproach to its good people, are things forever 'gone with the wind.' Make no mistake: They will not return.

"Respect for law and obedience to lawful authority, things long a stranger to Russell (County), are here to stay. All the might of the state, and please don't belittle it, are behind the forces of the law and are sustained by an aroused and fearless statewide press."

Judge Jones, assigned here on special duty by the chief justice of the State Supreme Court, convened a special session of the Circuit Court to investigate the recent murder of vice-foe A. L. Patterson.

Jones replaced Judge J. B. Hicks, who was removed from the investigation along with the regular circuit solicitor, Arch Ferrell.

As his first official act, the judge, a veteran of 34 years on the bench in his own circuit, threw out the present jury box from which names of grand jurors normally would be drawn, and ordered a new list empanelled within 10 days.

Arab Gunfire Wounds Eight, Israel Reports

JERUSALEM, Israel Sector, June 30 (AP) — An Israeli Army spokesman said tonight eight persons were wounded by gunfire and grenades which raked the Jewish section of this divided city from the Arab-held old city.

The spokesman said Arab Legionnaires fired two-inch mortars and threw hand grenades. He said Israeli forces did not reply.

Housing Probers Hear "Windfall" Profits Defended

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP)—The Senate Banking Committee heard testimony today that an FHA-insured $13,846,000 loan provided a two million dollar windfall profit to the borrowers and a bonus of nearly one million to the lending institution.

All this was accomplished on a capital investment of only $6,000 by the builders of the Shirley-Duke apartment development in nearby Alexandria, Va., the probers were told.

"I don't think anybody has been cheated." Atty. Carl Budwesky said in answer to a question from Sen. Robertson (D-Va). "I think it is a question of who got the money."

Budwesky, former Alexandria city manager who represented the builders as their attorney, denied that the rents were excessive and defended the payment of windfall profits to the builders rather than using the money to repay part of the loan.

He said the mortgage called for fixed maximum payments, and there were penalties for overpayment. He said the penalty for excess payments amounted to 1 per cent to the FHA and 3 or 4 per cent to the holder of the mortgage.

To government claims that tenants in the apartment project were being charged $70 to $85 a year more rent because of the higher mortgage, he said that even if the profit had been repaid, it would have affected only the last two or three years of the 33-year loan. And rents would not have been reduced before that time.

President May Name Coal Economic Group

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP) — President Eisenhower was reported sympathetic today with a proposal that he name a special committee to see how the government can help the soft coal industry.

That was the impression he got, Sen. Cooper (R-Ky) told reporters, after he and house members from Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Virginia had accompanied a 15-member industry committee to the White House.

The group said the coal industry was in a "severe economic crisis," and left with the President a list of 10 suggestions. These included tariff protection against imports of low grade crude oil and ways to encourage increased use of coal.

Pointing to the increasing number of closed mines and the continued loss of markets in the face of a steadily increasing power demand in the nation, the group called for a government policy designed to maintain a production of at least 450 million tons of coal per year.

The Barbary apes of Gilbraltor are the only wild monkeys in Europe.

Sheriffs Meet With Hardly Walrus Mustache In Sight

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP)—Anyone who still thinks of a sheriff as the old movies so often pictured him, as a dull-witted man wearing a walrus mustache and a tobacco-stained vest, had better modernize his thinking.

For the National Sheriffs Assn. is holding its annual convention here. And anyone who dropped by today could hear all about radar, scientific traffic control and ways to track down criminals by airplane.

A visitor gets his first jolt by a display at the entrance to convention headquarters at the Mayflower Hotel.

There is a picture of a five-man jazz combination, surrounded by pictures of female singers and other entertainers. The leader of the hep outfit rates a picture of his own, alone with his trumpet. As the caption proudly proclaims, he's Sheriff Bill Parker of Burlington County, New Jersey.

Naturally not all sheriffs have such gaudy sidelines as Bill Parker. Nor do all of them have such up-to-the-minute shops as the incoming association president, Sheriff Bryan Clemmons of East Baton Rouge Parish, Louisiana.

Clemmons has 70 deputies under his command, plus 22 airplanes manned by an enthusiastic volunteer posse.

The airplanes already have paid off. A trusty, accompanied by a free man who turned out to be an accomplice, set out to work on a farm.

On the way they stopped off for a beer, which they paid for with a check. Proprietor suspicious. Called sheriff. Airplanes fanned out, soon spotted the culprits.

"They had nine other checks ready to cash when we caught them," Clemmons said. "How long did it take after the crime was first reported? I'd say around 20 minutes."

Church Group Hits A-Bomb Production

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 30 (AP)—Congregational Christians today denounced atomic bomb production as "a prostitution of scientific skill"—but they rejected a proposed demand that it be halted immediately.

A move arose in the final session of the week-long meeting to call on the government for an "immediate cessation" of atomic bomb development, but it failed after it was described as "pro-Russian."

"Inadvertently, this would play into the hands of the Russians," said Howard Huntington of Westport, Conn.

The proposal came from an eight-member resolutions committee.

It was believed to be one of the first times that representatives of a major denomination had been asked to pass on the question of continuing hydrogen and A-bomb work in the light of their faith.

Churchill Minimizes Differences With U. S.

OTTAWA, June 30 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill minimized British-American differences today and said the outlook for world peace has improved as a result of the recent conferences in Washington with President Eisenhower.

He set forth generally optimistic views on world problems in a news conference here.

Churchill flew to Canada from Washington yesterday. He met with the Canadian Cabinet today after private talks earlier with Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent.

Smoke is the result of imperfect burning.

House Leaders Near Agreement On Farm Support Compromise

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP)—House leaders were reported near agreement today on a one-year compromise plan which would keep farm price supports up to 80 or 85 per cent of parity.

That would split the difference between President Eisenhower's demand for a flexible system with a 75 per cent minimum, and many farm legislators' insistence on continuing rigid 90 per cent supports on basic crops.

Party lines were split as members prepared to vote tomorrow on the basic conflict between flexible vs. rigid controls, but despite the reports of imminent compromise Democrats insisted 75 per cent of their membership would vote to continue basic crop supports at 90 per cent of parity.

The New York State Democratic delegation, composed largely of big-city members on whom both sides had been counting, announced tonight it was backing high farm price supports.

The reported compromise plan would establish the policy of flexibility in the support program, but with a higher minimum floor, somewhere between 80 and 85 per cent of parity, and a 90 per cent maximum. Eisenhower has asked a range from 75 to 90 per cent.

Steel's 'Big Six,' Union Sign Up

PITTSBURGH, June 30 (AP)—The CIO United Steelworkers of America held signed contracts today with the "Big Six" of the nation's basic steel industry—accounting for nearly 400,000 of the union's 600,000 basic steel employes.

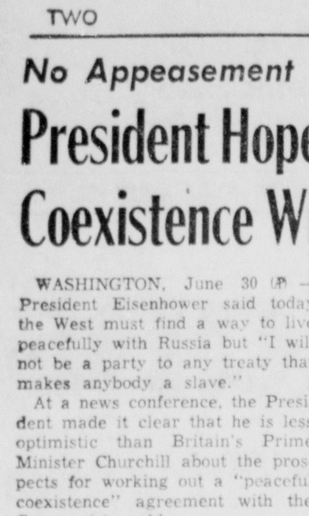

U. S. Steel Corp., the nation's No. 1 producer, set the pattern yesterday by signing a contract which gives its 190,000 USW employes a five-cent hourly pay boost and improved pensions and insurance.

The pension and insurance improvements are estimated by the union to add an additional seven cents to the package bringing the total increase to 12 cents an hour.

Other members of the "Big Six" signed up either last night or today, marking the second straight year that union President David J. McDonald has negotiated major contract terms without a strike.

The other members of the "Big Six" which account for more than half of the steel produced in the United States are:

Bethlehem Steel Corp. with 80,000 USW employes, Republic Steel Corp. with 51,000, Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp. with 25,000, Youngstown Sheet and Tube with 22,000 and Inland Steel Corp. with 19,000.

"Atom Garbage" Disposal To Be Future Problem

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Reporter

ANN ARBOR, Mich., June 30 (AP) A plea for serious thought "on an international level" on the best means to dispose of deadly "radioactive garbage" which may pile up in tremendous quantities as the atomic age advances, was made recently by an Atomic Energy Commission scientist.

Saying that dispersal in water of such radioactive waste would not of itself provide a complete answer to the problem for future generations, Dr. W. A. Rodger of the AEC's Argonne national laboratory declared:

"Even the oceans are not big enough to hold the activity which conceivably may be produced."

He indicated that he meant by that statement that in coming generations—say by 100 years from now — radioactive waste from atomic enterprises of the world may be so large that if all of it were dispersed in water, the waters of all the oceans would not be sufficient to keep radioactivity within safe levels.

Declaring that none of the present or suggested methods of disposal—including water or air dispersal, burial of solid procuts in wastelands or in ocean deeps, or retention of liquid waste in underground tanks—provides a completely satisfactory solution, as presently developed, for the long term problem, Rodger said:

"If in the next several decades, anything like the quantity of fission (waste) product which has been hypothesized is actually produced, it is clear that this generation has a serious responsibility to future generations in deciding just what will be the final disposal."

Rodger spoke at an international congress of nuclear engineering sponsored at the University of Michigan by a division of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers.

He said that in his opinion, the best thing to do "at least for the present generation" would be to maintain control of the wastes in containers "in deserts or mines" —as distinguished from free dispersal in air or water, or burial beneath the ground or at sea in ways not subject to later checking.

Rodger gave these estimates of the radioactive waste problem of the future: by the year 2000 A.D., atomic reactors in the United States, including those which may be generating industrial power, may be numerous enough to be yielding a ton of waste products a day—and on a world basis this would be three tons a day.

If this production rate continued for 50 years, very large quantities or radioactive material—some having abilities to maintain much of their radioactivity for periods up to a million years—would require disposal.

Brown Takes Over Baltimore FBI Office

BALTIMORE, June 29 (AP) — Donald K. Brown, a veteran of 19 years with the Federal Bureau of Investigation, arrived here yesterday to take over as special agent in charge of the Baltimore FBI office.

The FBI has a long-established policy of transferring its head agents frequently.

Brown succeeds S. Scott Alden, who was transferred to Knoxville, Tenn., after three years in Baltimore.

The new agent in charge of Maryland and Delaware operations is a native of Arizona and comes here after a year at Albany, N. Y. He previously has been agent in charge at San Francisco, Cleveland, Birmingham, Salt Lake City, Savannah, Houston and El Paso.

"Official Use Only" Stamp Gives Army Secrecy Cloak

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP)—The Army is putting teeth in the new Defense Department directive which authorized a secrecy cloak for information when it bears the stamp "For Official Use Only."

The Army, first of the armed services to issue orders based on the over-all Pentagon directive, has sent out a circular warning that:

1. "Official information which does not require classification in the interests of national defense" will bear the new classification stamp, and "disclosure of information in this category in public news media is prohibited."

2. Material bearing such a stamp will be disseminated within the Army and among other government agencies on a "strictly need to know basis."

The Army circular is predicated on one issued by Deputy Defense Secretary Robert Anderson on June 1 which, in the language of the directive, was "to assure the proper custody, preservation and use of official information which requires protection in the public interest."

Neither the Defense Department nor the Army claims that documents bearing the "Official Use Only" stamp contain actual military secrets of value to an enemy —a category covered by formal regulations backed by the force of law and which now includes "Top Secret, "Secret" and "Confidential" classification. Prior to a new security order by the White House last year there was a fourth, "Restricted", category.

The new "For Official Use Only" stamp promises to become a handy substitute for the former "Restricted" stamp.

Its use is not confined to the Pentagon, although there it is especially popular. The stamp shows up on such documents as excerpts from testimony before congressional committees.

The Defense Department directive listed subjects and documents which could be protected by the new stamp, including such obvious matters as the medical and other purely personal records of military and civilian employes; information from material furnished by companies which might contain "trade secrets" or confidential financial reports, and advance information on plans to procure specific real estate, knowledge of which could influence prices.

But the list also contained some broad-band, catch-all paragraphs, including one putting in the category of official-use-only "preliminary documents relating to proposed plans or policy development when premature disclosure would adversely affect morale, efficiency or discipline." The interpretation of effect and the need for secrecy is left to the official stamping the document or information.

Vital Link Is Found In Atom Nuclei Riddle

SYDNEY, Australia, June 30 (AP)—A Sydney University nuclear research team said today it had discovered a possible vital link in the riddle of what holds atom nuclei together.

The head of the university's school of physics, Prof. Harry Messel, told newsmen the event could be interpreted either as a "new fundamental particle" or a "new mode of decay of a known particle." He added:

. . . "We have results which we are unlikely to repeat in our lifetime. It is of that significance and importance. Its great significance is that it is a fundamental discovery—something on which science can build."

Government And Insurance Firm In 150-Year Legal Feud

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP)—For 150-years—ever since the French captured U.S. ships in the 1790's—the dispute has gone on. It now has become one of the longest legal grudges of all time.

And there's no sign that the end is near, even though the Court of Claims has ruled against the Insurance Company of North America in its suit against the United States.

"We'll ask for a rehearing first," North America's lawyer, Robert B. Ely III, said recently by phone from his Philadelphia office. "If that's denied, we'll appeal to the Supreme Court."

It was in 1789 that G. Washington was inaugurated as President of these fledgling United States. Five years later, in 1794, North America began its insurance business.

The government and the company have been carrying on the legal feud almost from the day of their beginning.

At that time the United States was a piddling concern, caught in the fierce crossfire of the fight between France and England.

France had declared a blockade of English ports, and U.S. ships entering these were sized. Their cargoes, and sometimes the ships themselves, were sold.

In 1800 a treaty between this country and France was signed whereby France dropped certain claims in return for which the United States agreed to release all claims its citizens might have against France.

Since they couldn't sue France under terms of the agreement, these citizens now turned to this country with their claims, and the so-called French spoliation claims began.

Among those presenting a bill: North America, which claimed it had to pay out more than $700,000 in damages to ships it had insured. The bill never was paid. With interest, it now would come to a hefty five million dollars.

Since citizens couldn't sue the government, they asked Congress for relief. And no one asked more steadily than North America.

"I don't have the record right in front of me," Ely said, "but I think the record shows we've had 76 favorable congressional reports. Since there have been only 83 Congresses altogether, you can see we've been on the job."

But getting a favorable report and getting money out of the till are two different things, North America long ago discovered. Each time the bill came to the floor, someone would object—and in the next Congress, North America would try again.

In 1948 Congress passed a declaratory judgment act. We won't go into the legalities here, but North America's lawyers thought this was the opening to bring suit in its long standing claim.

The government lawyers, John F. Wolf and Asst. Atty. Gen. Warren E. Burger, contended the law didn't apply at all. The Court of Claims agreed.

"It seems to us," said Chief Judge Marvin Jones, "that in order to stretch the application over a hiatus of 150 years would require a clear intention on the part of the Congress to waive the statute of limitations. We are unable to find ... such clear intention. ...

"Plaintiff's claim has been presented by counsel with thoroughness and skill, but we can find no sufficient basis ... for holding that we have jurisdiction to pass upon the merits of the claim at this time."

So, end of a round, but not the end of the dispute. As the Court of Claims well knows, after 150 years, North America has just begun to fight.

Seven Held For Grand Jury In Abortion Case

WARRENTON, Va., June 30 (AP)—Seven persons charged with operating an "abortion mill" waived preliminary hearings yesterday and were bound over to the Fauquier County Circuit Court Grand Jury.

Trial Justice R. H. Marriott continued bonds for the seven pending action of the grand jury which will convene Sept. 27.

Present for the brief proceedings in Trial Justice Court here were the seven persons charged by police and five women who police said had undergone abortions and were held as material witnesses. A sixth woman held as a material witness was hospitalized and did not appear in court.

Dr. G. Thomas Strother, 54 of Brunswick, Md., is charged on five counts of performing criminal abortions. He is free under $5,000 bond.

Famed Breed Bull Added To Route 51 Farm Herd

A bull from an excellent strain of Aberdeen-Angus cattle has been added to a Cumberland area beef cattle herd.

Antone M. Struntz, 513 North Mechanic Street, has purchased a young bull from the W. G. Merrells of the Longview Aberdeen-Angus Farm at Burlington, W. Va.

Struntz said the addition of the bull of this supreme beef breed will better the grade of calves in the herd of the Alfred E. Zihlman estate.

The local man manages the cattle raising holdings of the late businessman six miles east of Cumberland on Route 51.

The bull just acquired is from good lineage in the Aberdeen-Angus breed. His dam is Eisa of RLS which was sold recently at the Greenmere Sale at Oaktown, Ind., to the Jefferson Farm of Butler, Pa. This for $26,000. For a nine-year-old cow this is a record prize for any beef breed.

Eisa of RLS was the grand champion female at the America Royal and International Livestock Exposition of 1947 and was judged grand champion female at the National Western Show in Denver in 1948.

Eisa was featured as the model or ideal type Aberdeen-Angus female. She was sired by Evnious Emulous, the $20,000 bull that was chief herd sire at Longview until June 1952 when he died.

Slabtown Blast Cited In Magazine Story

The story of the January 18, 1950, blast that destroyed a Slabtown home and killed Mrs. Hannah McKenzie and her infant granddaughter is featured in the August issue of Master Detective.

The article features the work of former State's Attorney Morgan C. Harris, First Sgt. Harry Holsinger of the LaVale Barracks of State Police, and Terence J. Boyle, former county investigator.

The case started from a mysterious fire in October 1949 in a room where, had it not been for a last minute change in plans, Mrs. McKenzie would have stayed at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Huston in Frostburg.

It related the blast of the McKenzie home the deaths of the two and the subsequent investigation that found Joseph Villa dead from explosion in the woods nearby.

GOC Observance Scheduled July 14

Ground Observer Corps Day will be observed July 14 by the U. S. Air Force and the Air Defense Command.

Set aside as a day of tribute, the date marks the second anniversary of the assumption of 24-hour daily "skywatch" duties by some 350,000 people presently engaged as civilian volunteers in the GOC.

Although GOC serves without money and all its facilities are local responsibilities, some degree of its activity and constancy of watch is indicated in its annual phone bill of $5,000,000.

Chemical Society To Hear Talk By Japanese Attache

Toshijiro Nakajima, attache of the Japanese Embassy, Washington, D. C., will address the Western Maryland Section, American Chemical Society, at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club today at 8 p. m. Dinner will be served at 6:30.

This will be a "Ladies Night" affair and Nakajima's talk on "Native Customs In Japan" will be of general interest.

The speaker was graduated from Tokyo University in 1948 and entered foreign service of Japan the same year. He became secretary of the treaties bureau, Ministry of Foreign Affairs, in Tokyo in 1950, serving there until 1953 when he took graduate work at Yale University. He had been officer in charge of protocol at the Japanese Embassy until this month when he was assigned to the political affairs section.

Financial Aid Sought For Fireworks Display

Playground associations are being urged to come to the financial aid of a proposed fireworks display here Monday, Robert E. Pence, recreation director, said yesterday.

Lamont Street Playground with a donation of $25 boosted cash on hand to over $150, Pence said. The American Legion and others were working Tuesday but a complete total of donations will not be available until later.

Tomorrow will be the deadline for contributions, Pence said, in urging public response. The display will cost $1,000 although Pence said "we will have something even if it's only a couple of fizzlers."

Announcement about the display will be made Friday or Saturday. Thousands witnessed last year's aerial fireworks in Constitution Park.

Since fireworks are banned for public use, the supervised display is the only chance many children will get to see them, Pence pointed out.

Interment will be in the Pickens Cemetery. A brief service will be held at the Greenlief Funeral Home at 12 noon Friday with Rev. Franklin R. Booz, of Montrose, officiating.

The child, who went to the sawmill area with her father and two younger brothers, was found lying on a 6900-volt power cable atop the sawdust pile estimated to be between 30 and 40 feet high.

The child's body was removed from the cable with the use of a shovel. Saw mill officials claim the power cable normally clears the sawdust pile by some three or four feet. No reason could be given as to how the young girl made the contact with the cable. West Virginia State Trooper James Rightmire is conducting an investigation.

A native of Pickens, the girl was born August 3, 1943 and was a pupil in the fourth grade at Porterwood School. Surviving besides her parents, are three brothers, Gary, Donald Jr., Dale, at home; a sister, Donna Jean, at home.

Her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Thomas Dale, Grindstone, Pa., and maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Tuning, of Pickens, also survive. The body is at the Greenlief Funeral Home.

USAF Will Use 1,500-Foot Cliff For Ejection Tests

WASHINGTON, June 23 (AP)—The Air Force said today it plans to hurl objects—maybe even human beings eventually—at supersonic speeds off a 1,500-foot cliff in southern Utah.

The purpose will be to test the action of airplane ejection seats, ejection capsules and parachutes at speeds faster than sound.

The two million dollar project of the Air Research and Development Command will involve construction of a 12,000-foot straight-away track, longest of its kind in the world, along a high mesa or plateau.

It will lead like an arrow to the mesa brim, from which there will be a sheer drop of 1,500 feet or more.

A rocket sled will roar along this track at more than 760 miles an hour. At the mesa brim it will be braked abruptly, to catapult its load in a high arc out into space.

This will make it possible to simulate for the first time a pilot's ejection from an airplane flying supersonically.

Initially only dummies will be used in ejection seats or in completely enclosed capsules.

After the device has been thoroughly tested, and if it proves successful, human volunteers probably try out its practicality, an Air Force spokesman said.

City Police said the mishap occurred at the corner of Virginia Avenue and Roberts Street. They said a car driven by Frank J. Brown, 1600 Virginia Avenue, who was traveling north on the avenue, struck the car operated by Sacks, traveling west on Roberts Street.

Police said both men are being charged with reckless driving. Brown is also being charged with operating a vehicle with expired driver's license. Investigating the accident was Officer John H. Stitcher.

Paper Co. Plans Treatment Plant

RICHMOND, Va., June 30 (AP)—The West Virginia Pulp and Paper Co. today disclosed plans for the construction of a 2 million dollar waste treatment plant designed to bring about a large scale reduction in the pollution load at its Covington plant.

E. Crawley Williams, manager of the plant, told the State Water Control Board that preliminary construction work has begun and that the new treatment facilities should be in full operation by early next summer.

The new installation will have a maximum capacity of 24 million gallons a day and will treat wastes from the mill's Woodyard Pulp Mill, chemical plants, carbon plant and the first two stages of the bleaching operation. The volume of wastes from these operations runs about 16 million gallons per day at present.

The waste treatment plant being installed at Covington is one of the most significant and advanced installations of its kind in the country," said E. Blackburn Moore, chairman of the water board.

Byrd And Mahoney Await Outcome Of Official Count

BALTIMORE, June 30 (AP)—Dr. H. C. Byrd's apparent victory over George P. Mahoney in the tight Maryland Democratic primary for governor underwent official scrutiny today as the canvassing of returns got under way.

Byrd, who rose from football player to president at the University of Maryland before resigning at 65 to make his first try for public office, went into the canvass with an unofficial margin of 163,134 votes to 161,114 for Mahoney.

He also led 80-72 in the more important nominating unit votes, which determine the winner of a Maryland state-wide primary just as electoral college votes determine the victor in a presidential election.

These figures included reports from all but one of the 1,338 polling places. But Mahoney refused to concede, insisting the official canvass in three extremely close counties might tell a different story.

These were Talbot, which has four unit votes and was given to Byrd in the unofficial returns by a 62-vote margin; Calvert, three unit votes and unofficially Byrd's by 82 votes, and Queen Annes, three unit votes and Byrd's by an unofficial 49-vote margin.

Mahoney, paving contractor who attracted nation-wide attention in the 1940's for his vigorous battle against racketeers as state racing commissioner, set up teams of lawyers to represent him at the canvass in those counties tomorrow.

Byrd took the same steps there, as well in some counties which went to Mahoney by slender margins.

Carroll County, the first to post official returns, showed 2,143 votes for Mahoney, 1,632 for Byrd. The unofficial figures were the same, except for one more vote given Mahoney.

Allegany County also started its canvass today.

Baltimore City and the other counties were scheduled to start tomorrow.

In the unofficial returns Byrd won Allegany's seven unit votes, 4,012-3,382; Anne Arundel County (7 unit votes) 9,887-7,187; Calvert (3) 731-649; Cecil (4) 2,558-2,295; Charles (3) 1,424-1,200; Dorchester (5) 2,663-2,342; Frederick (7) 4,532-1,720; Montgomery (7) 12,584-4,023; Prince Georges (7) 13,871-5,008; Queen Annes (3) 2,036-1,787; Somerset (4) 2,700-735; Talbot (4) 1,946-1,884;; Washington (7) 4,298-1,551; Wicomico (5) 3,768-1,550 and Baltimore City's 4th District (7) 6,908-6,425.

Mahoney was credited with Baltimore's 1st District (7 unit votes) 13,689-5,976; 2nd District (7) 7,103-4,498; 3rd District (7) 21,240-16,574; 5th District (7) 16,626-16,339; 6th District (7) 8,844-7,934; Baltimore County (7) 33,818-23,571; Caroline (3) 1,693-1,504; Carroll (5) 2,144-1,632; Garrett (4) 1,080-931; Harford (5) 4,180-2,717; Howard (3) 2,387-2,155; Kent (3) 1,821-1,591; St. Marys (3) 2,823-2,411 and Worceester (4) 1,728-1,683.

E. Brooke Lee, director of Byrd campaign headquarters, also declared there was evidence of tampering with 20 voting machines in the 5th District. He described this as an attempt by Republican-appointed election officials to thwart Byrd because of "their belief that Byrd would be the strongest Democrat in the general election against" Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin. The Republican governor was renominated easily over three opponents.

Baltimore Area Has Its Driest June On Record

BALTIMORE, June 30 (AP) — The Baltimore Weather Bureau reported today the past month has been the driest June ever experienced in this area.

Forecasters saw some chance of thundershowers in the next 24 hours, but no prospect of general, soaking rains.

The extreme dryness also covers most of Maryland east of the Blue Ridge.

Most points in this area have not had a good rain since the week of May 16, and some areas even missed the inch or so which fell during that week.

Crop observers ave reported the dry weather has been extremely hard on tobacco, potatoes, pastures and hay fields It also has retarded the growth of the state's important commercial vegetable crops.

Only .37 of an inch of rain was recorded by the Weather Bureau here during June and that is 3.15 less than normal for the month. The deficiency so far in 1954 is almost nine inches.

Water rationing is in effect in Baltimore and a large suburban area tied in with the city supply system. It is illegal to use hoses for sprinkling or car washing between 7 a.m. and midnight.

J. S Strohmeyer, city water engineer, said he had turned down requests of several farmers in nearby areas who wanted water pumped to them for irrigating.

The dimensions of the long dry spell are illustrated by these rainfall reports from weather stations showing total rainfall since May 16:

Central Maryland: Chewsville 2.90 inches; Conowingo 1.24; Dundalk 1.75 Emmitsburg 1.38; Glen Dale 2.22; Parkton 2.12; Westminster 1.78; Woodstock 1.34; Keedysville 89; Frederick .46; Towson 1.30.

Southern Maryland: Leonardtown 2.33; La Plata .35; Owings .66; Solomons .54.

Eastern Shore: Chestertown 3.29; Oxford 1.21; Pocomoke City 2.49; Princess Anne 1.08; Rock Hall 1.59; Royal Oak 1.39; Snow Hill .40; Crisfield .88; and Cambridge .45.

In most cases, much of this total came in the week of May 16. Such points as Chestertown, Pocomoke City, Leonardtown and Emmitsburg have had good rains in the past two weeks.

Youngster Drowns In Baltimore Harbor

BALTIMORE, June 30 (AP)-Joseph Kovacs, 11, drowned today while swimming in the harbor with two companions.

Police said Kovacs, his older brother, John, 13, and Joseph O'Neill, 11, were swimming off a partially sunken boat at the end of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad pier when Kovacs went under.

O'Neill swam to shore and got help and young Kovacs' body was recovered a short time later. But 25 minutes of artificial respiration at the scene plus 40 minutes effort by five doctors at South Baltimore General Hospital failed to revive the youngster.

Chestertown Youth Believed Drowned

CENTREVILLE, Md., June 30 (AP)—An 18-year-old Chestertown youth who was to enter the Air Force next week was believed drowned today in Chester River near Crumpton about 15 miles north of here.

Richard Layfield, suddenly disappeared beneath the water while swimming with a companion.

Layfield and his friend, Jack Pritz, also of Chestertown, both working on a nearby farm, had gone to take a dip in the river before returning to work.

The two were planning to enter the Air Force next week.

Adm. Turner Joy Steps Out Of Long Navy Career Today

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 30 (AP)—Vice Adm. Charles Turner Joy tomorrow steps out of a 40-year Navy career which once thrust him into the role of chief dickerer with the Communists in Korea.

Now that he has been superintendent of the Naval Academy for two years, following hard on 11 fruitless months as head of the United Nations truce negotiating team in Korea, he says:

"The qualities of patience and firmness are universal in their application. They are just as useful in running a Naval academy as they are necessary in negotiating with the Communists.

"Here you have a conference and everyone arrives at a definite and amicable conclusion n a short time. You can't negotiate with the Communists unless you negotiate from a position of military strength.

"We must turn out leaders here and we must understand the thinking and psychology of our enemy I have tried to get lecturers here who are authorities on what makes Communists tick."

Some of the Navy's highest ranking officers are coming here for the 11 a.m. retirement ceremonies. Rear Adm. Walter F. Boone, naval aviator, will succeed Joy.

The 59-year-old native of St. Louis is not exactly taking leave of the Navy when he goes on inactive status for medical reasons.

From his home at LaJolla, Calif., Joy hopes to spark a drive for funds to build a new war memorial stadium at the academy.

Shore Group Seeks 'Right-To-Work' Law

EASTON, Md., June 30 (AP)—Businessmen from several Eastern Shore counties met here today to set up their part of a state-wide campaign to get a "Right-to-Work" law for Maryland.

A state-wide committee headed by Edward P. Colwill, Baltimore contractor, will seek to get such a bill passed by the General Assembly in 1955.

Elias W. Nuttle, Denton lumberman, was named to head the campaign on the Eastern Shore.

The group planned to set up local committees in all nine Eastern Shore counties and tentatively designated county chairmen. Their names were not announced.

Colwill and John Fitzpatrick, Frederick attorney who is counsel for the state-wide committee, explained at the luncheon here today that the campaign is for a law identical with that enacted by Virginia in 1947 and upheld by the U. S. Supreme Court.

State Senator Robert B. Kimble wishes to thank the voters of Allegany County and to express his appreciation for the confidence shown him at the polls Monday.

Stabilizing Influence In The Middle East

The Middle East, at the moment, is as calm as a volcano which is not erupting—and as reliable. The United States has replaced Britain as the country whose nationals own more than half of all Middle Eastern oil.

New attempts at a British-Egyptian agreement on the Suez Canal are being made. Egypt and Saudi Arabia have an oral agreement to pool their military potential. Iran and Britain are trying to arrive at an agreement by which Iranian oil could again be sold on the world market. Jordan and Iraq voice suspicions of Britain and America and of the Egyptian-Arabian agreement. But there are, for the moment, no assassinations, no mob violence, no wars.

The Communists are focusing their power politics on the Far East. Israel, as usual, is charging and denying border incidents. Meanwhile the average Arab in those countries, whose poverty has not been alleviated greatly despite the benefits of rapid oil development, take turns blaming his own government, the landlords, the Israeli and foreign oil companies.

Russia will continue its attempts to exploit the governmental weaknesses and the mass discontent of the Middle East. British influence and power in the area have all but disappeared. The Middle East has become less important to Britain since the loss of India, but is, nevertheless, important to the United States.

A Russian break-through there would be disastrous. Yet it is there, if anywhere, that Russia must get the oil she would need for a major war. These facts, to which little attention has been paid, are the background of the recent testimony of State Department officials that Iraq, occupying a central position in the area, may with American aid become a "stabilizing influence" in the Middle East.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Roy Cohn

Those who dislike him call him brash, ill-tempered, aggressive. Undoubtedly, he has a special gift for making intense enemies and loyal friends. His enemies are devoted to his destruction because at some point in the relationship he has cut through to the hard core of character without the mitigating graciousness of telling only a good friend and not the victim of his penetration.

It is Roy Cohn of whom I write, at 27, a national figure whose mail pours in like a movie star's. He was a graduate lawyer at 20; a clerk in the United States attorney's office before he was admitted to the bar; he is already a veteran trial lawyer and probably one of the four or five most understanding lawyers in cases involving Communists or their affiliates.

It usually takes between three and five years for a lawyer to fit himself to handle Communist cases. Because of the Reds' use of Aesopian language, as, for instance, using the word peace when war is meant, or democracy when a dictatorship of an elite controlling a party is meant, it is necessary for a lawyer who goes into such cases to have made a full study of the literature of the subject. It is a large volume of material going back more than a century. While not all Communists and very few anti-Communists are intimate with this literature, no lawyer can understandingly enter this field without a thorough knowledge of it.

This has, in no small measure, been the secret of Roy Cohn's success in the preparation of the case of the Top Communist Eleven, the Remington case, the Second String Communist case, and the Rosenberg case. While Cohn worked alone on none of these cases, his contribution in all of them has been enormous, his ability uncontested.

I can write of Cohn with frankness because we are friends between whom there can be no flattery or malice. It is not secret that when Cohn took over the chief counselship of the McCarthy Committee, he found not a case in the files which had any meaning.

Also there was an accumulation of lawyers whom Senator McCarthy would not fire, because he finds it difficult to fire people. Cohn had to do the house cleaning an dhe did it without worrying about very many amenities. His attitude was that superfluous legal furniture was unnecessary.

Roy Cohn does not need this job and possibly does not understand the attitude of one who does need a job and for whom unemployment can be a personal tragedy. His father, Albert Cohn, a judge on the Appellate Court in New York and one of the most respected of jurists, has had an important career in the Democratic party in association with Edward J. Flynn. Roy Cohn grew up in the Democratic party and since childhood has known most of its leading personalities in New York. His prospects in the Democratic party were always good and his advancement could have been swift.

However, many Democrats in New York are of the so-called liberal persuasion. Many of them took advantage of United Front action in the good old days when that was the way to get elected and when Russia was our ally. These friends of the Cohns regarded Roy's anti-Communist activities as an abberration of youthful enthusiasm. They hoped that he would soon get over it. When he joined up with Senator McCarthy, the social pressure upon Roy and his family became virtually unbearable.

The Communists and their friends have done a pretty good job of smearing McCarthy as an anti-Semite. Roy Cohn rejects this as untrue from his own experience. It has, however, been very tough on his family whose social and political associations have always been with those who disapprove of the junior senator from Wisconsin. Judge Cohn has, however, stood by Roy throughout this fight.

It is to be expected that Roy Cohn will continue to battle Communists. He knows that some of the members of his committee do not want him on it. When it has been suggested that he has intimidated one or two members, it can only be that men whose records are not clear fear his knowledge. Such men may succeed in ridding this committee of its ablest man, but will it end his usefulness in fighting Communists? Naturally, it will not.

It's Mostly A Matter Of Harmony

Harry Truman's Loyalty To Friends Contributed To His Current Illness

By Drew Pearson

KANSAS CITY—It was Harry Truman's determination never to let down a friend, even a controversial friend, that contributed in part to his illness.

His doctors didn't advertise it, but for some time the ex-President has been somewhat under the weather. To them his sudden seizure in the wings of the "Call Me Madam" performance was not entirely a surprise. They had tried to get him to curtail his activities, and strongly advised that he cancel a date he had made with his old friend, James Petrillo, head of the Musicians Union, to attend the Musiicans' annual convention in Milwaukee.

Months ago Petrillo had invited Truman to be the union's guest of honor and to play a little piano-trumpet duet together. It was an event calculated to make musical headlines, and both Truman and the head of the Musicians Union were looking forward to it.

However, when Truman's doctors told him he would have to curtail his activities until cooler weather, he reluctantly sent Petrillo his regrets. The show, he said, was off.

But a few days later, Truman overruled his doctors and sent a telegram to Petrillo that he would be on deck. The show, he said, "must go on."

Asked for explanation, Harry Truman had a simple answer: "As long as I live I will never forget what Jimmy Petrillo and his men did for me in the 1948 election. He was one of those who did not let me down. And I can't let a good friend like him down now."

K. C.'s Most-Loved Man

Sentiment has changed a lot around Kansas City regarding Harry Truman. There was a time, about two years ago, when the little K. C. haberdasher who became President of the United States was criticized and scoffed at up and down the streets of the city that sent him to Washington . . . But not today. Today, he is the most-loved man in Kansas City . . . Some people thought he could never settle down in the ol' home town after the glamor of Washington, after a private yacht on the Potomac, a retinue of servants and bodyguards. But he has settled down as comfortably as in an old shoe . . . Some of Truman's friends raised a little money to hire a bodyguard for his days as ex-President, but Harry hasn't needed him, doesn't want him . . . And if anyone around Kansas City ever thought of touching a hair of Harry Truman's head, no police could ever protect him . . . HST once confided to Garrett Smalley of the Kansas City News Press the reason why he didn't have air cooling in the White House. "I don't mind air cooling," he said, "but if I had it in here people would stay too long." . . . It was Mrs. Truman who overruled her husband's old-fashioned views of air cooling the other day and insisted that the hospital move him from Kansas City's 100-degree heat in an ordinary room, into an air-cooled room.

Loyalty Caused Troubles

When I was in Kansas City last January interviewing the former President for television he told me something that illustrates his ideas about gratitude and friends. Perhaps also it shows some comparisons with the McCarthy Committee.

It's not exactly a secret that for a long time President Truman had no great regard for me, but, it was not known how far he sometimes carried that "lack of affection." Once, however, he almost turned thumbs down on Clayton Fritchey for a position on the White House staff because Fritchey knew me.

I had known Fritchey first when he was on the Cleveland Press, later as editor of the New Orleans Item, later as public relations adviser to the secretary of defense. But when Fritchey came up for appointment as a White House secretary, Howard McGrath, then attorney general, warned the President that Fritchey and I were friends. (McGrath's Justice Department had been tapping my phone.)

So Harry Truman asked Fritchey how well he knew me. "Of course Pearson is a friend of mine," Clayton replied. "But that isn't going to interfere with my work. You have your friends too, some of whom I may not approve of, but I'm not going to ask you to give up your friends."

Truman's loyalty to friends of course was what caused him more trouble than anything else in the White House. Clayton got the job.

Notable Memory

Last January, about three years later, I was in Harry Truman's office in Kansas City. It is lined with books, chiefly history books. He had been reading the works of previous presidents, even as he did while in the White House, and was dictating his own memoirs. Every day, he said, he dictated a chapter or so of his book, then had a staff of research men, who had been looking over his records, pull it to pieces, check it backward and forward, to make sure every detail jibed.

The ex-President seemed relaxed, happy, very much at home. He didn't seem to miss the glamor, the excitement of Washington at all — which is rare for a man who has spent a third of a century in politics.

Neither Mr. Truman nor I mentioned any of the unpleasantness that had sometimes marked our lives in Washington. But after the TV interview was over, he made a remark which indicates how long his memory is and also indicates some contrasts with the methods of the McCarthy Committee.

"You don't remember it," he said, "but a long time ago you wrote a story about me. You said a new committee had been formed to investigate military preparedness and efficiency. You said that a new chairman named Truman was in charge of that committee and that he made it a point to check on the war effort without upsetting the government, that he took things up with the executive branch of the government to see if things couldn't be straightened out privately before he resorted to publicity.

"That was what I was trying to do," continued Truman. "I used to go down to see Roosevelt and tell him about a situation, and he would take out a pencil and make a note of it. And a week or so later he would report that the situation was straightened out or sometimes he'd say 'We haven't been able to straighten it out, go ahead and investigate.'

"Well you were the first to write about our committee," said Truman. "I haven't forgotten it, and that's why you're here today."

I couldn't help but think that the man who inherited the chairmanship of the old Truman Committee, one Joseph R. McCarthy, had certainly changed its methods today.

Oppenheimer Decision Shows Problem Facing U. S.

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—More sensational than any issues trumped up in the recent congressional hearings and more significant of the true problem that faces the United States Government in endeavoring to prevent "security risks" from being given access to secret data is the wording of the final decision just reached by the Atomic Energy Commission in barring Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer from further employment by his government.

Top scientist though he be and far-reaching as is his influence on other scientists throughout the country, Dr. Oppenheimer is nevertheless held to be a man who has refused to cooperate with his own government in maintaing its security regulations.

While the decision of the commission was four against giving Dr. Oppenheimer security clearance and one—Professor Smyth of Princeton—in favor of doing it, it is important to note that one of the four, Thomas E. Murray, went even further in suggesting that Oppenheimer's behavior was a species of disloyality warranting condemnation.

Smyth's View Astonishing

The lengthy written opinions deserve a wide reading. The dissenting view expressed by Professor Smyth is astonishing in its indifference to the literal requirements of existing security regulations. Though admitting the damaging nature of Dr. Oppenheimer's acts, Professor Smyth thinks the scientist wouldn't make the same mistake again. The clear answer to this is that, despite his "indiscretions" or what some of his apologists have gently called "foolishness" in lying repeatedly to security officers of the United States Army who interrogated him in 1943, Dr. Oppenheimer was found associating in 1953 with the very man he tried to protect against exposure 10 years before. So he did make the same mistake of association twice, after all.

But the majority opinions are devastating in their condemination of Dr. Oppenheimer and given an entirely different picture of the scientist's record than has been presented by the special pleaders who have been feeding the press with whitewash articles designed to make the American people swallow the typical "left wing" line—that security risks are being punished merely for their views. What Commissioner Zuckert says so penetratingly about specific acts by Dr. Oppenheimer is well worth noting. He was appointed by President Truman and is leaving office this week. His concurring opinion is one of the most remarkable valedictories that a public servant has left behind. He says:

Failed The Test

"The fact is that this country is faced with a real menace to our national security which manifests itself in a great variety of ways. We are under the necessity of defending ourselves against a competent and ruthless force possessed of the great advantage that accompanies the initiative. There is no opportunity which this force would not exploit to weaken our courage and confuse our strength . .

"One fact that gives me reassurance is that this decision was reached only after the most intensive and concerned study following a course of procedure which gave the most scrupulous attention to our ideas of justice and fair treatment . . .

"Our experience has convinced us that certain types of association and defects of character can materially increase the risk to security. Those factors—many of which are set forth in the majority opinion—are present in Dr. Oppenheimer's case to such an extent that I agree he is a security risk."

But Commissioner Murray went further. He, too, is a Truman appointee. He concurred in the result but said he reached his conclusion by his own reasoning. He wrote in his concurring opinion:

"The primary issue is the meaning of loyalty. I shall define this concept concretely within the conditions created by the present crisis of national and international security. When loyalty is thus concretely refined and when all the evidence is carefully considered in the light of this definition, it will be evident that Dr. Oppenheimer was disloyad."

Then Commissioner Murray defines "Loyalty" as requiring an individual to be "faithful to the lawful government or to the sovereign to whom one is subject." He declares that "this faithfulness is a matter of obligation," and then goes on to cite the various instances in which Dr. Oppenheimer refused to cooperate with his own government's officials on security matters and declares finally: "Dr. Oppenheimer failed the test . . . Dr. Oppenheimer was not faithful to the restrictions on the associations of those who come under the security regulations."

Not Decisive Factor

The majority opinion, evidently written by Admiral Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission — who has served his country well in the present crisis—makes it clear that Dr. Oppenheimer's opposition to the building of the hydrogen bomb was not the decisive factor in the case. As Commissioner Campbell in his splendid summary in support of the majority view points out, the conclusions were reached on the basis of all the factors and all the circumstances viewed in their entirety.

The Oppenheimer case was going on in secret while the big television show on trivialities was being carried on in public. Such issues are far better dealt with in the calm and judicial atmosphere which surrounded the work of the personnel security board and the Atomic Energy Commission than before the camera lights.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

We're offering Bob Young the chance to grab the Long Island, Sideswipe and Holstein R.R.

It runs from the information booth in Pennsylvania Station to the complaint department at Montauk Point. The upstate Democrats added the Holstein claiming it is the milk cow for the Pennsy.

Right now it is as bankrupt as a rain-maker in Hades. It is a very peculiar railroad. All sidings and no main line.

It taps the rich golf districts of Mineola, feeds the scrabble fields of the Hempsteads and saves many a weary portage between the swimming pools of Sands Point and Montauk.

Bob, you can run up a score on the Long Island. It travels through some mighty fine billboards.

Over 300,000 commuters use the Long Island every day. That's a softer touch than plush lining.

Governor Dewey says you can kick the fare 20 per cent on suspicion, the Interstate Commerce Commission recommends 25 and the referee in bankruptcy is shilling for 34. There's a bottle-neck with many a happy gurgle in it.

The state legislature is willing to sweeten the pot with $58,000,000. That should get the fans working in the waiting rooms.

The Nassau County Democrats claim the Pennsy keeps the Long Island in a special pistol pocket. Mayor Wagner says New York City will lose $16,425,000 taxes in the next nine years. Bob, you can keep books like that on picnic plates.

The Inward Flaw

By Joseph And Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

Far from seeming ailing or aged, Sir Winston Churchill has displayed all the splendor of the Greatest personality of this age during his days in Washington.

Furthermore, he and President Eisenhower have done good business together. They have re-forged the links between Britain and America, as they set out to do. Yet there is still a flaw in the forging that they have not and perhaps could not overcome.

In brief, the British leaders have now waked up to Britain's total peril from Soviet attack with the absolute weapons.

It may seem strange that this British awareness of total peril should now be so important. After all, the peril has existed for some time. It has been known in theory since it began to exist but the truth is that the British leaders did not feel the peril in their bones until this winter. Their actions were not influenced by it. They did not regard their peril as something real, practical and immediate.

Spurred By Cole's Talk

A date can even be given, on exceedingly good authority, for the moment of the prime minister's own full awakening. On February 17, Rep. Sterling Cole talked in Chicago to an ironically chosen audience — the annual convention of the National Sand and Gravel and Ready-Mixed Concrete Association. But Cole got his most attentive hearing in London, at No. 10 Downing Street.

The chairman of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy described how our first hydrogen bomb "obliterated the test island" at Eniwetok; tore a "cavity in the floor of the ocean a full mile in diameter;" and did other horrible and specific things.

Precisely because Cole's facts were vivid and specific, they aroused the prime minister as he had never been aroused by all the secret and abstract studies available to him. Churchill has been quoting Cole's facts ever since, in a sort of grim litany. He referred to them at length during the White House talks, reiterating his other oft-repeated statement that the British Isles are "a bull's eye target" for Soviet attack.

Still more curiously, the episode of the Japanese fishing boat was what really convinced most of the other members of the British government. Like Churchill they had all the secret papers. But as in Churchill's case, the elaborate calculations of the secret papers had seemed to them remote and unreal. Then the fall-out from our second hydrogen test cruelly interrupted the voyage of the Fortunate Dragon. And that simple episode translated the calculations of the secret papers into human terms that any politician or planner could understand.

Warned Of Super-Munich

After that, the peril of Britain was truly real and truly immediate in the mind of every British policymaker. And this harsh, belated awakening in turn controlled the British response to the challenge in Indochina.

All the reasons the British have given for their policy in the Indochina crisis—the importance of Asian nationalism, the need for Asian support, and so on—are good reasons. But there is one other thing about their policy that the British have not said.

Warnings that the loss of Indochina would amount to a super-Munich in Asia, have come from almost every trusted British key official on the spot. Britain's own Asian experts have emphatically argued that the danger of an Asian Munich is much greater than the danger of offending Asian nationalism. All these warnings have been ignored in Malaya to meet the increased Communist menace there, which only confirms the character of the warnings.

All the facts, in short, point the same way. The British policymakers thought that a war to save Indochina would spread into a wider war. Hence they had to ask themselves, "Are we ready to risk the destruction of Britain for the sake of Indochina?" That single question was controlling and decisive. The answer was, "No." The British therefore set out to secure the surrender in Indochina that is now taking place.

Many Advances Have Been Made To Remedy Sterility

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

It has been estimated that there are three million childless homes in this country. Since most of our young couples want children, it is reasonable to assume that the majority are disappointed would-be parents. The census taker also loses out because it means that our population is reduced by several million youngsters.

Many advances have been made over the years in remedying sterility. Today when a couple consults a physician because of a barren marriage, they stand a 40 per cent chance of having the condition corrected. The study evolves around a few general principles. The male must be able to produce healthy sperm and the female, healthy ova. There should be no abnormalities of the sex organs and the falopian tubes of the women must be open in order for the two seeds to meet.

In the past, many failures occurred because the physician blamed the first abnormality he found. We now know that various infertility factors may be present in both husband and wife and unless all are corrected, the problem may not be rectified. We also have learned that poor health is a more frequent cause than abnormalities of the reproductive organs.

Male fertility was always more or less taken for granted but actually the husband is to blame as often as the wife. The husband usually is studied first as examination of the wife is much more extensive and often requires months of study. The initial examination determines whether her reproductive organs are properly developed and are in a normal anatomic relationship. Special tests are performed to find out whether the passageways are open so that the reproductive cells can meet.

The Rubin test is a simple procedure in which harmless gas is introduced into the uterus, and when the tubes are open, it passes into the abdomen and produces mild distress in one or both shoulders. When the tubes are blocked, this type of discomfort does not occur.

Another method calls for injection of a liquid that shows up under X-ray. This procedure is more accurate because it demonstrates whether obstruction exists. When the tubes are open and there are no barriers or impediments to the passage of the reproductive cells, the physician usually recommends morning temperature studies to determine the exact day that the ovum leaves the ovary. This chart tells would-be parents the most fertile period of the menstrual cycle.

BABY'S BIRTHMARK

Mrs. L. writes: How long will it take for a dark red birthmark on a baby to disapper?

REPLY

These lesions may disappear spontaneously; hence wait a few years before starting treatment. Several treatments are available, varying from radium to camouflaging with cosmetics.

DOUBLE CHIN

L. B. writes: What can be done for a double chin in a young person?

REPLY

If the individual is overweight he should double his will power and push himself away from the table when half full. As we get older, double chin tends to be associated with sagging skin and muscles. Plastic surgery is most helpful at this time of life.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Weatherman Scores In Fairgo Feature

Double Return $176; Candi Cee Payoff $53.40

Rain Rose, Shadow Shot Cop Thrillers; Today Oakland Day

Andrew B. Clatterbuck's Weatherman, always a favorite of local racing fans, rewarded his backers yesterday by whipping seven rivals in the Cumberland Purse, sixth and featured event on the Cumberland Day program at Fairgo.

A crowd of 6,500 persons saw the Battleship horse with Willie Clark astride defeated Royal Liege by 2½ lengths while the place horse was a head in front of Miss Lovey, the early leader.

Weatherman, which last won at the local half miler in 1951, was the only favorite to come through on yesterday's card of eight races. The price on the winner of the 6½ furlongs test was $6.40.

Mayor Presents Bond

Mayor Roy W. Eves, acting in behalf of the Fair Association, presented Owner and Trainer Clatterbuck, whose home is at Culpeper, Va., with a defense bond.

Backers of Star of Peace got a real jolt in this race when the bad acting mare appeared as though she "didn't choose to run" when she approached the starting gate. She refused to break as the race got under way after a walk-up start was tried outside the gate.

$176 Double Is Tops

Several new highs in wagering were established on the seventh day of the 10-day session.

The top daily double payoff of $176 was recorded when the combination of Eternal Glow (6) and Rain Rose (8) registered to better the previous high of $87.80 recorded when Whisper Foot and Second Sight won on the second day of the session. The double pool of $20,222 was only $84 under the meet's high of $20,306 of last Saturday and the $25,058 handled in the 8th race was only $615 below the $25,673 bet in the 8th race on Saturday.

Candi Cee Returns $53.40

The longest price of the meeting on a $2 win ticket was posted in the 3rd race when T. Caulk's Candi Cee, a 2-year-old daughter of Noble Impulse, romped home first in the maiden race and paid off to the tune of $53.40, $27.00 and $15.80. The previous high was $45.50 on Jamitchie in the 7th race on Friday. Candi Cee, Tommy Fortune up, defeated Cross On, the favorite. First objection of the meeting was filed by B. Brady, rider of Cross On, against Tommy Fortune, aboard Candi Cee, but it was disallowed by the stewards.

Mike Sorrentino, of the Bronx, N. Y., who led the riders here in 1952 and 1953, brought home a pair of winners yesterday to tie Anthony Russo, of Baltimore, for first place, each having ridden eight winners.

Photos Decide Two Races

Sorrentino scored his 7th win in the opener aboard A. R. Testa's Eternal Glow which whipped Lupo by a half length and returned $9.80. Mike's second and final win of the day came in the mile and sixteenth eighth on A. Morrison's Shadow Shot which won by a photo over Fireagain, the favorite, and returned $6.60. This was almost a thriller as the second event on the card in which Mrs. R. W. Albright's Rain Rose, 6-year-old daughter of Johnstown, 1939 winner of the Kentucky Derby and Belmont Stakes, scored the first win of her five-year racing career. It took a photo to give Rain Rose the verdict over the favorite Mr. Fixit. Jimmy Baird rode his initial win of the meeting aboard the 12 to 1 shot which paid a $26.60 mutuel.

J. G. Gardner's Miss Elfreda beat Peel Off, the public choice in the fourth, Lamar Bauer got his initial win of the meeting on Sun Brandy ($11.00) in the fifth and Bottle Fatigue, a 6-1 shot, with Frank Law riding, bagged the 7th and rewarded her backers with $14. Our Boston, which finished second in the 5th race under the guidance of E. McIvor, paid $23.20.

The mutuel handle was $173,704 and was second to Saturday's high of $186,775. For the seven days the handle is $1,134,569 or an average of $162,081.

Today Is Oakland Day

Today is Oakland Day and defense bonds will be given to the owners of the winning horses in the 5th race, Mayor and Town Council; 6th, Ward's Restaurant and the 7th, Hinebaugh Restaurant. Post time for the opener is 2 p. m., EDT.

Schute's Roofers Rack Up 14th Win

Schute's Roofers scored seven runs in the fourth inning to defeat Narrows Esso in a City Softball League game yesterday at Allegany Field by the score of 11-6.

The win was the 14th in 16 starts for the league leaders who now hold a three-game edge on the second place Amvets.

Eternal Glow, never far removed from the leaders, swung out for the drive and closed very fast to get up in time. The latter raced Swim Girl into defeat from the outside but faltered in the drive. Galaghgranite finished well beyond the middle of the course. Swim Girl faltered along the inside. Stanley tired.

DAILY DOUBLE — Eternal Glow (6) and Rain Rose (8) paid $176.00.
DOUBLE POOL — $20,222.
Rain Rose, outrun to the final turn, came very fast in the final sixteenth on the complete outside and just got up in the final stride. Mr. Fixit steadied after breaking well, drew into a clear lead when set down but shortened stride and tired badly through the late stages. Little Zac hard pressed while holding a narrow advantage, clung to his rail position and held on gamely. Serf Gal lacked racing room all down the backstretch in a good effort. Clair de Lune, taken back and steadied early, showed nothing when asked for best. Curose was hemmed in along the rail all around the lower turn then tired when clear. Blue Holly was a strong factor to the head of the stretch, then gave way badly.

WINNER—Owned and trained by T. Caulk.
Candi Cee saved ground to assume command on the first turn, raced true thereafter and held Cross On safe at the end. The latter, slower than usual at the start, moved up along the rail to draw close and pressed to the end. Brady's claim of foul against the winner was not allowed. Loksgood broke swiftly but could not keep up though racing fairly well. Lady Hierocles tired. Bellissa bolted on the first turn. Yes broke slowly and showed little in the running. Ester Jack also bolted on the first turn.

Miss Elfreda moved up along the inside after a half, assumed command without difficulty and won going away. Peel Off came from far back and caught the tired pacesetters. Doctor's Fancy, hard ridden to shake off Lucky Easter had nothing left for the end. Frances Doll had no excuses. Lucky Easter flattened out after a half. The others showed nothing.

Sun Brandy, hustled right to the front, saved all possible ground and was doing his best while tiring at the end. Our Boston was always within striking distance but was not good enough. Logic pressed the pace to the head of the stretch then tired. Lu Lu Miss failed to respond when set down. Harmitz was carried wide on the first turn. Weatherman, outrun to the far turn, circled wide while picking up speed, raced into command on the outside and won going away in impressive fashion. Royal Liege pressed the early pace and held on grimly. Miss Lovey easily dashed into command, held a comfortable lead under wraps but gave way after five furlongs. Radience saved ground to no avail. Walking Hills tired after racing close up most of the way. Clearbrook was outrun. Spherical showed little. Star Of Peace, very fractious at the gate, was taken to the outside in a walk-up start but refused to break with the field.

WINNER—Owned by C. M. Dunn, trained by R. W. Kimberley.
Bottle Fatigue, very alert at the start, was rated evenly in front and held sway when put to pressure at the head of the stretch. Sussex Circle forced the pace but failed to menace the top one. Twilight Mist, hard held behind the leaders on the inside, took up several times then swung out for the drive and lost ground through the final furlong. Il Trovatore outfinished Big Doc. The latter moved along the rail to loom dangerous on the final turn then faltered. Happy Yuletide was always outrun.

Shadow Shot, badly outrun early, found best stride after six furlongs, circled the field on the final turn and closed very fast to get up in time. Fireagain, hard held just off the first flight, moved between horses to assume command, drew away to seem a sure winner but could not deny the late rush of the winner. Lady Herod was always formidable racing outside of horses. Concise, also outrun early was going well at the finish. Bimini flattened out. She's Happy gave way.

Americans Are Jolted Out Of Tournament At Wimbledon

Drobny Whips Patty, Rosewall Upsets Trabert

U. S. Netmen Fail To Make Finals 2nd Time Since 1946

By STERLING SLAPPEY

WIMBLEDON, England, June 30 (AP) — Jaroslav Drobny and Ken Rosewall startled Staid Wimbledon today in the semi-finals when they turned the men's championship of this world's greatest tennis tournament into a match without an American.

Drobny upset Budge Patty of Los Angeles and Paris 6-2, 6-4, 4-6, 9-7 on the center court where, less than two hours before, Rosewall had eliminated the favorite, Tony Trabert of Cincinnati, 3-6, 6-3, 4-6, 6-1, 6-1.

Americans Kayoed In 1946

Thus when they meet in the final Friday, it will be the second time since 1946 that there hasn't been an American finalist in the Wimbledon men's singles. It also will be the 32-year-old Czech's third trip out there for such an occasion. He refused to return to Czechoslovakia in 1949 and took up citizenship in Egypt.

For three sets, the Rosewall-Trabert match was a classic of cut, thrust, parry and placement tennis. Then the match fell apart as Trabert suddenly lost his mobility when a mass of blisters on his hand and the bottom of his left foot began paining him.

By contrast, the Drobny-Patty match was dull. Drobny won almost with ease.

In those three sets while Trabert still was able to get around, the 15,000 fans packed around the center court were almost continually applauding and cheering as the 19-year-old Rosewall slowly began to get the upper hand.

Love To See Yankees Lose

Americans practically monopolize the titles in this tournament and when one of the big Yankees goes down the crowd loves it.

The fourth set went to Rosewall almost without a fight from the 23-year-old ex-sailor. Trabert later admitted he "threw" his last service, figuring he would have a better chance to break through in the fifth set. But he didn't do it. The set was all Rosewall's as Trabert's game disintegrated.

The women's singles semi-finals will be played tomorrow with defending champion Maureen Connolly of San Diego, Calif., opposing Mrs. Betty Pratt of South Orange, N. J., and Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., playing Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif.

Miss Hart and Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio, the top-seeded women's double pair, reached the semi-finals today with a 6-2, 6-3 victory over New Zealand's Judy Burke and Mrs. Heather Robson.

Colts Get Kerkorian

LOS ANGELES, June 30 (AP)—The Los Angeles Rams today announced ex-Stanford quarterback Gary Kerkorian is being traded to the Baltimore Colts in return for a future draft choice.

Kerkorian starred at Stanford in 1951, was with the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1952 and came to the Rams a year ago. He didn't play with the local club last year because he was attending school.

Bill Tuttle's Circuit Blast Sinks Chicago

Martin Is Victim In 9th Inning, 4-3

CHICAGO, June 30 (AP) — Bill Tuttle's homer with none aboard in the ninth after Chicago tied the score at 3-3 with two in the eighth gave the Detroit Tigers a 4-3 triumph over the second-spot White Sox today.

Chicago's Bob Keegan, winningest American League pitcher, failed in a try for his 12th decision, but the defeat was registered against Morrie Martin, who started the ninth.

Despite the loss, the Sox failed to lose ground to the third-place New York Yankees, who remained a game behind by losing at Boston 6-1.

Tuttle's decisive clout, his fifth homer of the season, gave the triumph to Billy Hoeft, who replaced starter George Zuverink in the eighth.

John Mazur To Play With Vancouver Team

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 30 (AP)—Vancouver's new professional football team announced today the signing of Johnny Mazur, 24-year-old former Notre Dame quarterback.

Coach Annis Stukus of the Western Interprovincial Football Union team said Mazur was the property of the Baltimore Colts but that "he never signed anything."

Mazur has just finished a year in the Marine Corps, where he played football at Quantico, Va., and Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Rawlings Seized On Draft Charge

CHICAGO, June 30 (AP) — Luther Rawlings, one of the nation's top welterweight boxers, was seized by FBI agents today on a charge of failure to register for the draft.

Rawlings, whose real name is Lucius Minor Jr., was seized while training at the Midwest Athletic Club on the west side for a tentatively scheduled July 17 fight at Miami with Italo Scorticcini.

Rawlings, who also was one of the top contenders for the lightweight crown in 1952 then held by Jimmy Carter, claimed he registered for the draft in 1947, but FBI agents said they could find no such record.

He failed to post $1,000 bond at arraignment before U. S. Commissioner C. S. Bentley Pike and was taken to Cook County Jail.

Piersall Tops Yankees' Bauer In All-Star Poll

CHICAGO, June 30 (AP) — Fleet Jim Piersall of the Boston Red Sox today captured the American League right field spot from Hank Bauer of the New York Yankees in the balloting for the July 13 All-Star game at Cleveland.

Piersall moved ahead of Bauer, 346,789 votes to 344,319, in the poll which started June 11 and closes Saturday night.

With four days left, the total vote in the poll to select the starting American and National lineups has reached 1,375,802. Several contests in each league may not be decided until 11th hour votes have been tabulated.

Yogi Berra, Yankee catcher, continues as top individual votegetter with 412,818. Next is Stan Musial, St. Louis Cardinal right fielder, with 409,363.

Giants Beat Brooklyn, 5-2, Hike Lead To Three Games

Relief Hurler Hoyt Wilhelm Halts Dodgers

Rescues Antonelli In 8th; New York Bags 6th In Row

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, June 30 (AP)-Knuckleball specialist Hoyt Wilhelm turned in a superb relief performance today to preserve a fine pitching effort by southpaw Johnny Antonelli and enable the New York Giants to defeat the Brooklyn Dodgers 5-2 for their sixth straight victory. The victory hiked the Giants' first place lead over the Dodgers to three games.

Wilhelm entered the scene in the eighth inning when the Giants leading 2-1 but with Brooklyn runners on first and third and nobody out. A fumble by Whitey Lockman on Junior Gilliam's easy roller and Don Hoak's hit-and-run single to right field had put the potential tying and winning runs on base and caused Antonelli's exit.

Furthermore, Wilhelm had to cope with the "heart" of the Dodgers' batting order—Jackie Robinson, Gil Hodges and Roy Campanella. Wilhelm made certain Campanella, who tied the score in last night's game with his ninth inning homer, never got to bat. He calmly retired Robinson on a short fly to left and made Hodges hit into an inning ending double play.

The Giants, who had scored their first two runs on a sacrifice fly and a wild pitch by Carl Erskine, iced the game in their half of the eighth, tallying thrice on four bases on balls and Lockman's two-run single.

Clem Labine, who had replaced loser Erskine in the seventh, issued the first three walks. Jim Hughes replaced Labine with the bases loaded and walked Alvin Dark to force in a run before Lockman delivered his two-run blow.

Nixon Beats Yankees For Third Time

Boston Winner, 6-1; Mantle Hits No. 14

BOSTON, June 30 (AP) — Willard Nixon held New York to six hits in beating the Yankees for the third time this year today as the Boston Red Sox scored a bizarre 6-1 triumph at Fenway Park.

Boston mired in the American League cellar, momentarily derailed New York's drive to catch the leading Cleveland Indians, dropping the Yanks three and a half games off the pace.

Nixon who had topped the Yanks 2-1 and 3-1 earlier this year, walked his way into several jams but escaped all but Mickey Mantle's fifth inning home run which tied him with the Tribe's Al Rosen for the league lead with 14.

Sammy White's two run single was the big blow of Boston's strange 3-run third inning which the team batted around.

In that frame New York's starter and loser, Tom Morgan, tied a major league record by hitting three batters with pitches. Last of the previous six hurlers to attain that distinction was Ray Boggs of the old Boston Braves in 1928.

Grady Hatton led off the third with a double. Ted Williams drew an intentional walk, one of three he was issued.

Karl Olson forced Ted at second but Morgan hit Billy Goodman on the ankle and the bases were loaded.

White's bouncer to short took a bad hop through Rizzuto's legs into left and two runs were in. Morgan then hit Ted Lepcio and Milt Bolling to force in another tally.

Cubs Snap Losing Streak Of 11 Games, Defeat Braves, 9-7

MILWAUKEE, June 30 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs went wild in the seventh and eighth innings today, scoring nine runs off an assortment of pitchers to snap an 11-game losing streak and beat the Milwaukee Braves, 9-7, before a ladies day crowd of 34,226.

A five-man Milwaukee rally in the ninth fell short when Danny O'Connell grounded out weakly and Del Crandall flied to left with the bases full.

Lew Burdette, who started for the Braves, had a one-hit shutout going for the first six innings, but fell apart in the seventh and was relieved by Ernie Johnson after giving up three runs on singles by Gene Baker, Dee Fondy and Joe Garagiola and Randy Jackson's Double.

Midland, Lonaconing Register Bi-State Pony League Wins

Midland took over the leadership of the Bi-State Pony Baseball League yesterday by shutting out Barton 2-0 while Lonaconing was upsetting Cresaptown, 6-5.

Hobell, Midland hurler, gained the decision over Johnny Johnson in a neat pitching duel when Midland scored runs in the second and sixth innings. Hobell yielded two hits, singles by Tommy Warnick and Johnny Thomas, and struck out 11. Johnson gave up three hits, including a triple by Winner and singles by Hobell and Thompson, and struck out five.

The victory was Midland's 7th in eight starts.

Defeated in four previous outings, Lonaconing notched his first win of the campaign at the expense of Cresaptown.

Dick Duckworth went the route for Lonaconing and struck out eight. He gave up 11 hits, six of which were shared by Wilson and Douthitt. The latter's blows included a triple and two-bagger. Grover Fazenbaker obtained two of the seven hits credited to Lonaconing. Scores:

Mims And Dykes Battle To Draw

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP) — Holly Mims, Washington, and Bobby Dykes, Miami, Fla., fought to a 10-round draw tonight in a bout at Uline Arena. Mims weighed 155, Dykes 159½.

There were no knockdowns in the see-saw battle.

Mims, second ranked contender for the world middleweight title, hustled after Dykes with a heavy barrage. But the crafty Dykes, using all his ringmanship, staved off the efforts by tying up Mims constantly.

Both fighters were bearing down hard because victory could mean a shot at Bobo Olson's crown.

One of the judges voted for Dykes 97-94. Another judge scored it 97-95 in favor of Mims. The referee called it 95-95, thus making the bout a draw under District of Columbia Boxing Assn. rules.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, June 30 (INS)—All these years, MGM has been hoping to find an actress to take the beloved Marie Dressler's place so that the popular "Tugboat Annie" series could be revived.

If you guessed for a week, you'd never guess who will inherit the role. Dore Schary has been talking to Helen Traubel, former Met star, about playing the lovable Annie. No, they won't be musicals, but of course it will be a surprise if La Traubel doesn't sing a tune or two.

The idea came to Dore after seeing Miss Traubel in scenes from "Deep in My Heart," in which she plays herself.

Never did a lady get out of town as fast as Ruth Roman di' Monday night, just barely catching the Superchief to New York.

Ruth had received a cable from John Nasht from Rome telling her to get there as soon as possible for "The Sinner," a picture she had signed to do before it ran into financial trouble. But at the last minute the money came through, and it's very much on again.

Monty Hall and Ruth's baby remain in Hollywood until they can pack in a more leisurely fashion and follow her in a month. "The Sinner" is a costume picture of biblical times.

It's a happy holiday for Gig Young. Not only is he engaged to the lady of his heart, Elaine Stritch, but he's headed back to his old stamping ground to be with Doris Day and Frank Sinatra in "Young at Heart."

You may remember that Gig's career got into high on this lot. When he was cast in "The Gay Sisters" under his real name of Bryant Fleming, he changed it to the character in the story, Gig Young.

"Another nice angle about "Young at Heart'," Gig told me over the phone, "is that I'm again associated with Producer Henry Blanke and Director Gordon Douglas with whom I made 'Come Fill the Cup' which won me an Academy nomination."

I am certainly glad there's no truth to the whispers that the young singing sensation, Charlie Applewhite, and his wife have separated.

Seems all the talk started when Charlie came here to do the Milton Berle show and then, after that show was cancelled, remained to do several others.

Mrs. Applewhite went to her home in Texas with their 18-months-old daughter, but as soon as Charlie returned to their home in New York she came back to be with him. I would have been surprised, indeed, after the way he showed me his baby's picture and his wife's picture, which he carried in his pocket—and I would have been sorry if this had happened.

Chatter in Hollywood:

I can't believe that Pier Angeli took Kirk Douglas' marriage as much to heart as everyone thought.

She has a new boyfriend who visits her set of "The Silver Chalice" at Warner's every day. He's James Dean, who was brought out here from the cast of "The Immoralist" for the lead in "East of Eden" which is being made at the same studio.

He's busy traveling between his set and her set, and on her 22nd birthday he gave her a matching gold necklace and bracelet.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Greta Garbo gave everyone a surprise by walking into Holiday House for dinner. Seems the chef there used to be Greta's cook in Sweden. I didn't even know Greta was in town.

Matty Fox and his bride are the guests of honor at a cocktail party and buffet dinner to be given by Mr. and Mrs. Nate Blumberg Sunday, July 4.

Martha Raye and her youthful husband have been in Reno. She's been visiting Harry Richman, an old friend who has a ranch there.

Jennings Lang with Chata Wayne on one arm and Nora Haymes on the other, a threesome at the Harlequin.

June Haver's sister, Evelyn McNamara, who is a show girl in Las Vegas, is marrying Dave Vachon, airline pilot.

Frances Faye, who was so good on the Larry Finley show, told me that she's just made a new recording album called "No Reservations."

Johnnie Ray stepped out at his ex-father-in-law's — Charlie Morrison—Mocambo, with Betty and Sy Kertman. Sy is his road manager and Betty is Marilyn Morrison's half-sister.

Guess Charlie Foy must be serious about Sugar King. He gave her a blue Cadillac for her birthday and a diamond ring which she's wearing on the proper finger.

One of the prettiest girls I've seen in Hollywood in a long time introduced herself to me at the Stack wedding. Her name is Joan Vohs. She's in "Sabrina" and is off to a good movie start.

My little friend, Anna Maria Alberghetti, opened at the Italian Village in San Francisco tonight. One of her numbers is "It's a Most Unusual Day" with a special arrangement written by Composer Jimmy McHugh.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Vary your "little girl" or "little boy" basics with fashionable—not faddish—accessories.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

A noted American dress designer advised recently, at a showing of her new collection: "Avoid fads when you are selecting your clothes. Be guided and inspired by the extremes in fashion," she suggested, "but adapt them to the demands of your own life."

These statements I heartily second. It is far more sensible to be appropriately dressed than to be startlingly dressed. If there is a question in your mind as to what to wear to a tea or dance, underdress rather than overdress. Wear something in which you feel comfortable (even if it is last year's fashion) rather than conspicuous.

Many Variables

If you want to give a new look to last year's dress, my experts suggest accessories that button on as variations for the basic: a big, shoulder-wide white collar; a dickey that buttons into a deep, squared neckline; a sleeveless vestee or jerkin that slips over the dress to button at the waist, and makes a town outfit out of a round-the-house style.

These variables, white or bright, can be planned so that two or three buttons permanently attached to the basic dress will anchor each separate accessory. They may be fashioned of no-iron fabrics, or of linen or pique that's easily pressed after a tubbing.

This idea is adaptable to the two "looks" of the current season —the little girl look and the little boy look. If you-re the tailored type, choose the latter style in dress, and make your variables trimly boyish: shirts, collars and cuffs, neat ribbon ties.

If you're an utterly feminine personality, adopt the little girl look. You may not be able to borrow hand-me-ups from little sister, but you certainly can borrow ideas from her wardrobe—ruffled skirts, beguiling puffed-sleeve blouses and frilly aprons—to vary your favorite fashions. The basic print you wear for shopping, or on the job, will become a party print if dressed with an organdy overskirt.

Your Clothes Budget

It's easy, really, to be well dressed on a budget. Planning is the answer! And multi-season accessories help.

Remember these tried and tested wardrobe premises: one, that the best dressed women aren't those with the most money to spend; two, that the only truly expensive clothes are those that hang, seldom worn, in your closet.

"WHAT'S YOUR LINE?" — Horizontal, vertical and diagonal lines make a world of difference in what clothing will do for (or to) your figure! This "P.S." gives you complete information on handling lines to your best advantage. Write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed return envelope for a copy of WHAT'S YOUR LINE?

Tomorrow—Why and wherefore.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen
Need Not Embarrass
Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK —(INS)— This spinning world . . .

If you missed the eclipse of the sun, don't give it a thought. There will be another one visible over the U.S. on February 26, 1979. It will last 2.7 minutes. If you think that's meager, how about the one due over equatorial Africa March 29, 1987. That's going to last only 0.3 minutes.

A skillion years ago a hairy man, vaguely sensing that he didn't like the hairy man who had just crawled in from a neighboring cave, picked up a fragment from a meteor that had just landed, hit the other fellow on the skull and killed him. The intervening millenia have seen great progress. Now man can kill with an H-bomb.

We haven't learned how to live in peace on this cooling, microscopic ember spinning obscurely in the limitless conflagration of space. But we sure have become wonderfully aware of how to measure heavenly bodies and their movements and predict their activities centuries in advance.

We knew a long time ago that the most recent total eclipse of the sun would cast a shadow on the earth that would speed across this world from Wyoming to Pakistan, about 8,000 miles, in just under three hours. We knew that residents of Minneapolis would see the eclipse for one minute and a specific number of seconds and that a certain number of Scandinavians would see it for two minutes and 35 seconds — not 34 seconds or 36, but 35.

That's a superb achievement, just as is the sure knowledge that the moon will cover the face of the sun so far as the people of Central America are concerned on February 26, 1998, and that Central and Southern Europe and a bit of England will have a total eclipse of 2.6 minutes duration August 11, 1999.

But in the matter of learning how to stop bashing one another on the skull, we're as ignorant as the ancient Chinese king, Chung K'Ang (2159 B.C.) who punished his astronomers for failing to tip him off on an eclipse.

Other ages took their eclipses in stride, deriving from them the meat of prayer, poetry, and a lively reportorial sense. "Insurrection in the city of Assur in the month Sivan the sun was eclipsed," wrote an Assyrian magistrate 763 years before the birth of Christ.

Pindar, the Greek, sang, viewing an eclipse, "O thou that seest afar, what wilt thou be devising? O Mother of mine eyes! A star supreme, reft from us in the daytime! Why hast thou perplexed the power of man and the way of wisdom, by rushing forth on a darksome track?"

The Romans placed great store by eclipses. Cicero was an eclipse man. The post Ennius, turning reporter, chiseled, "On the nodes of June the sun was covered by the moon and night." Rome was fighting Macedon during the eclipse of the moon on June 21, 168 B. C. This was considered by both sides as an omen that Macedonia's king was about to get the boot. P.S.—He did.

Both the U. S. and Russian Air Forces made extensive preparations to cover the eclipse of June 30, 1954. They wanted to measure the speed of and inspect the route of an inter-continental rocket (with H-bomb warhead, it is presumed) with an 8,000 mile range.

If they are successful we may not have to bother about missing the one on February 26, 1979. Or go to Java for the blot-out of June 11, 1983, or join "big brother" in Patagonia for the eclipse of November 22, 1984, or tread water in the Arctic Sea for the best view of the sun's 2.8 minute cancellation scheduled for noon, March 9, 1997.

Maybe there won't be anybody left to watch the show. Wish both the air forces would take along a poet.

WIFE PRESERVERS

When you have prepared starch to starch a man's shirt, shake out the shirt so the starch will spread evenly, and dip the portions you want starched into the pan. When the shirt is starched, hang it to dry. Complete drying before sprinkling makes ironing easier.

Daily Bridge Lesson

by Barclay

NOT JUST INFORMATIVE

DISCARDING a high card on a trick is not simply informative. Early in the play it indicates your desire for a lead of that suit except in the rare instances when it is a "suit-preference" inviting a lead of the higher-ranking of certain other suits. Late in the game, when both defenders are discarding on the declarer's tricks, there are many times that a high card says "I'm going to hold this suit, so you hold your other assets." But that is not the case with the first few tricks.

	♠ 3 ♥ K 10 8 4 ♦ J 5 4 3 2 ♣ 10 7 5
♠ A Q J 5 ♥ A 3 2 ♦ A 7 6 ♣ Q 9 8	N W E S	♠ 6 2 ♥ Q J 9 7 6 ♦ Q 8 ♣ A 6 4 3
	♠ K 10 9 8 7 4 ♥ 5 ♦ K 10 9 ♣ K J 2

(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
Pass	1 NT	Pass	3 ♥
Pass	3 NT

North made his normal lead of a fourth-best diamond 3, which brought forth the suit's three highest cards. West scored the heart A and led toward the dummy's string. North came right in with the K and was all ready to offer his diamond 2 when he noticed South's discard of the spade 10.

That emphatically high card, when there were so many pretty high ones of the suit out of sight, made him stop and think. He finally decided South had such a holding that he had better not disregard the signal. So he led his singleton spade. That brought the K from South and the A from West, who now had enough tricks available to run his game, scoring four in hearts, three in spades and the two minor aces to have nine.

If South had signaled with his low spade 4—or the non-commital 7 so that he later could complete either a high-low or a low-high—North would have led his diamond 2 at that stage. South could have won with his 9, North could have overtaken the 10 with the J and the two setting tricks would have come from the 5 and 4 to put the contract down two.

You may point out that West should have held up his diamond A until the third round, in the hope that South had the heart K. As the cards were, however, that would have done him no good against the correct defense.

Tomorrow's Problem

	♠ 10 8 5 3 2 ♥ 5 ♦ Q 10 8 3 2 ♣ J 5
♠ A 4 ♥ J 10 7 6 4 3 ♦ A K ♣ 7 3 2	N W E S	♠ Q 6 ♥ K Q 9 2 ♦ 9 5 ♣ A K Q 8 6
	♠ K J 9 7 ♥ A 8 ♦ J 7 6 4 ♣ 10 9 4

(Dealer: East. Both sides vulnerable.)

If East bids 1-Club, West 1-Heart, East 3-Hearts and West 6-Hearts, what is North's logical lead?

Profit-Taking Hits Recent Favorites; Market Declines

NEW YORK, June 30 (AP)—Profit-taking hit some of the recent Stock Market favorites today, sending them down one to two points or more.

It was an orderly retreat, however, and the high speed ticker had no trouble keeping up with transactions. As a result, volume declined to 1,950,000 shares from the 2,580,000 traded in Tuesday's turbulent session, when stocks survived a selling wave and moved up to a new high since 1929.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost $1.10 to close at $127.20. The industrial component was down $1.90 and the rails 80 cents. The utilities closed unchanged.

There were 379 advancing stocks and 503 which declined. Eighty-five issues made new highs for the year and 14 touched new lows.

Among issues which have had big rises lately but which declined today were Du Pont, which lost 3½ at 134, Allied Chemical down 3¾ at 91¾, Union Carbide off 1⅜ at 86, American Can off 2 at 47¼, General Electric off 1¼ at 46, Westinghouse Electric down 1 at 72¾, and Alcoa, down 2 at 87¼.

The oils again sold off because of mounting inventories and some price trimming. Losses of a point more more were posted by Standard Oil (NJ), Amerada and Texas Pacific Land Trust.

The steels dipped fractionally despite the agreement on a new labor contract. Chrysler, the most active stock yesterday, traded heavily today and closed down ¾ to 65.

Board Finishes Official Canvass Of GOP Ballots

Democrat Check Still Incomplete

After afternoon and night sessions, the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors completed its canvass of the Republican vote in Monday's state and county primary election and thereby made the results official.

Although virtually every one of the 53 Republican candidates got some slight change in vote as a result of the official check, there was no change in the ultimate winners.

One difference resulting from the official count was that Lester B. Reed moved ahead of Estel C. Kelley into fourth place in the House of Delegates race. This has no real bearing on the outcome, however, as the top six candidates gained nomination.

Governor Theodore R. McKeldin got more votes than any other candidate on the ballot in Allegany County with 8,850 out of a total vote of 12,027 Republicans including eight absentees. Among the county men on the ticket the biggest vote-getter was Edward R. Muir, seeking re-election as sheriff, who polled 8,119.

Late last night the Board of Election Supervisors and office personnel were continuing their canvass of the Democratic vote.

The Weather

Yesterday produced a freak occurrence in the heavenly bodies that won't be visible again until the year 1963, and then only in Maine, but only the early risers were able to catch sight of the solar eclipse, as it occurred early in the morning. The high temperature yesterday was 81, the low 53, and the relative humidity at 6 p.m. registered 51 per cent. There was a slight trace of rainfall. Today's forecast calls for this portion of the state to be partly cloudy and warm with a chance of scattered thundershowers in the afternoon.

Lions Club Will Entertain Reserve Units Here Tonight

Companies Aided In Sports Car Races

The Cumberland Lions Club will entertain officers and enlisted personnel of the Marine, Navy and Army reserve units, the Maryland National Guard units in Cumberland, and the Romney, W. Va., Army Reserve unit, tonight in the Herman Room of the Queen City Brewing Company. The buffet style supper will begin at 8 o'clock.

Invitations have been extended to all members of the Defense Department groups who acted as safety patrolmen during the sports car races at Cumberland Municipal Airport May 16. The races were sponsored for the second time this year by the local Lions organization.

The Lions committee on arrangements for the supper said the program is being held to honor those servicemen who aided the Lions at the sports car event. Approximately 140 men from the five service organizations helped during the races, and were praised for their efficient handling of the huge crowd which attended the affair.

The Lions hope to have at least 100 in attendance tonight. The buffet supper will be served by members of the Lions Club and refreshments will be available.

Ernest B. Treat, county tax collector and a warrant officer in the Army Reserve, is in charge of arrangements for the Lions.

A. LEE MARPLE

Marple To Run As Independent For Commissioner

Starts Circulating Needed Petitions

A. Lee Marple, Cumberland businessman, acknowledged yesterday that he is beginning to circulate the necessary petitions so that he can run as an independent candidate for Allegany County commissioner in the November 2 general election.

Marple said that he had the petitions prepared yesterday and has begun circulating them to obtain the necessary 750 signatures of qualified voters of Allegany County.

The prospective candidate asserted last night that he is confident he can get the names of about 1,000 signers on his petition within two weeks.

July 26 Deadline

Section 146A (a) of the Registration and Election Laws of Maryland provides that the certificate of nomination of an independent candidate shall be filed with the County Board of Election Supervisors not later than the fourth Monday in July, which would be July 26 this year. No candidate defeated in the primary may file in a general election.

Another section of the Registration and Election Laws of Maryland provides that not less than 750 qualified voters must sign the petition when the nomination is for an office to be filled by an election to be participated in by the voters of the entire cities of Annapolis, Frederick, Cumberland or Hagerstown.

If Marple is successful in obtaining the required number of signatures by July 26 he will be making his second try for public office this year. He was a candidate for mayor of Cumberland in the June 1 city primary election and was third in a four-way contest, with 595 votes.

Marple, who operates a jewelry and television business at 234 North Centre Street, said he is definitely an independent candidate because he is affiliated with neither major party. He has been registered as an independent ever since he was 21 years old.

Only Opposition

A native of Cumberland and a veteran of World War II, Marple is married to the former Helen White and they have a seven-year old son.

Observing that he owns property in both the city and county, Marple said he believes that an independent candidate should enter the race for county commissioner, a new development in county politics. Marple's candidacy would assure a five-man contest for the three positions on the Board of County Commissioners.

Besides Marple there will be the three Republicans nominated Monday, Charles N. Wilkinson, William H. Lemmert and James Orr, and one Democrat, James P. Russell of Mt. Savage, who is making his first bid for public office.

Although many of the Republican candidates are unopposed so far, there are four other Democrats besides Russell in the field for county offices. William L. Wilson of Cumberland is a candidate for state senator, Leslie J. Clark of Lonaconing and Charles O. Buskirk of Klondike are candidates for the House of Delegates, and Graydon S. Dunlap of Cumberland is a candidate for sheriff.

Antique Auto Fans To Meet In Cape May

Mr. and Mrs. David T. Davis, 653 Washington Street, are planning to be in Cape May, N. J. the weekend of July 10 when several hundred members of the Antique Automobile Club of America converge on that city for a get-to-gether.

Davis said yesterday he and his wife will drive to the event in their 1925 Deusenberg Sports Phaeton, and expect to leave here Thursday, July 8, making a stop in Philadelphia and continuing on to Cape May the next day.

On Friday, July 9, a tour of old historical homes will be made and a cocktail party for club members will be held that evening. On Saturday at 4 p. m. antique automobiles of all types will parade the streets of Cape May and a highlight of the evening will be a Gay Nineties Ball at 10 p. m.

The display of the early vintage cars and the awarding of prizes will take place on Saturday beginning at 9:30 a. m. with a farewell luncheon slated at 12:30 p. m. Davis and his wife plan to remain in Cape May for a couple of days after the meeting is over. This year Cape May is celebrating the 100th anniversary of its incorporation and a number of social events are being planned for the motorists.

Klondike Man Gets Six Months For Assault

Thomas S. Allen, about 45, of Klondike, has started to serve six months in the County Jail for assault and battery upon his month-in-law and sister-in-law.

Magistrate Fred Crowe of Frostburg sentenced Allen Tuesday night to three months on each charge and stipulated that the terms were to run consecutively and not concurrently.

The magistrate said that Allen, who had been drinking, came to the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Bella Simpson, in Klondike, to get his wife and take her home with him.

An argument ensued and he struck Mrs. Simpson across the nose with the barrel of his shotgun and gave her two black eyes, Magistrate Crowe explained. He also struck his sister-in-law, Mrs. Elsie Hausrath, who lives with her mother.

Allen then walked from the house and fired two shots through an upstairs window. No one was on the second floor of the house at the time, the magistrate added. The Klondike man pleaded guilty. The prosecution of the case was handled by Assistant State's Attorney James S. Getty.

Flower Plant Has Numerals Clearly Visible On Bloom

A local flower-fancier reports that one of her Gloxinia plants has six blooms on it, including one with the number one, 10 and 12 plainly visible inside the cup of the flower now growing in her home.

Mrs. Vernon Miller, 205 Narrows Park, said the plant has eight more buds on it and the numbers were in the first bloom. The plant was raised from a leaf she received about eight months ago from a friend.

In the meantime she has taken two cuttings from the original leaf and one of the two cuttings has about four blooms which are orchid in color. The inside of the bell-like bloom is white with orchid dots.

Mrs. Miller who has a number of other type flowers growing in her home, says she also likes to work with flowers and in a garden located near the house.

Record Number Of Residents Receive X-Rays

9,826 Persons Take Advantage Of Service

The Allegany County Tuberculosis Association proudly announced yesterday that 9,826 residents, a new all-time high, received free chest X-rays at the mobile unit which ended its tour of the county on Tuesday.

Miss Jean Reinhard, executive secretary of the county association, who released the final figures, said this number exceeds the 1953 total by approximately 3,200, in the same length of time.

A breakdown of this figure shows that 3,048, or approximately one-third of the total, were school children. During the two weeks that the unit was located in Cumberland, on Centre Street and at the A&P Market on Wineow Street, 4,503 residents took advantage of the free service.

Average Is High

During the unit's tour of county towns, 2,275 persons were given X-rays. The overall daily average was 300 X-rays per day, while the daily average in Cumberland exceeded the general figure, with an average of 450 each day.

Garrett County produced an unusual coincidence when 1,954 people received free X-rays in 1954.

Incidentally, the Garrett County total boosted the two-county figure well over the 10,000 mark — 11,780.

Results of the X-rays are usually received within three or four weeks after it has been given.

Letters Sent Out

If the result is positive, a letter is sent to the person informing him that a larger X-ray will be taken by the Allegany County Health Department. This extra service is also free. The local TB association was quick to point out that a positive result does not necessarily mean that a person has tuberculosis.

Mrs. Elizabeth Nave and Mrs. Mary Margaret Smith, of the lay health council group, obtained the volunteers to work on the unit during its tour of the county.

Miss Reinhard said tentative arrangements have been made to bring the unit here in September of next year. Everyone over 15 years of age should have his chest X-rayed at least once each year.

Man Is Hurt In Car Crash Near Romney

A Shanks, W. Va., resident was hospitalized here last night with injuries sustained in an auto accident on Route 50 about three miles east of Romney.

Attaches at Memorial Hospital said the injured man was John Haines, 38. He suffered a fractured right ankle and laceration of his forehead.

State Police at Romney said Haines was driving his auto on Ebenezer Mountain traveling toward Winchester and reportedly passed another car near the bottom of the mountain.

As he passed the car, he apparently careened across to the left of the highway and ran down over an embankment. An ambulance was summoned from Romney and Haines was taken to the hospital.

Investigating the mishap which occured about 9 p.m. is Sgt. Robert Schnell of the West Virginia State Police.

ASC Committee Members Cannot Seek Re-Election

Two veteran members of the Allegany County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee will be ineligible for re-election in the fall under new regulations announced by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

One of the new provisions will limit to three the number of consecutive terms a farmer may serve as a county or community committeeman, except that where all three members of the county committee have already served three consecutive terms one member is eligible for election to one additional term.

That rule will force Albert O'Neal, this city, and James H. Weimer of Mt. Savage from the committee. O'Neal has been a county committeeman as long as there has been a farmers' advisory committee of this type, since 1936. Weimer has been a committeeman some six or eight years. Joseph O. Silber of Oldtown was elected to the committee last year for the first time.

Other provisions announced by Benson include:

1. Creation of county and community election boards which would conduct the annual elections of committeemen; 2. prohibit officials of general farm organizations from serving as members of county ASC committees, and 3. prohibit county committeemen from acting as (a) sales agents or employes of the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation; (b) marketing quota review committeemen, and (c) as employes of their own county offices.

Citizens Warned To Watch For Phony Exterminators

Many Home Owners Fleeced By Racketeers

Cumberland citizens are warned to be on the lookout for racketeers who have been posing in recent weeks as pest exterminators.

Reports reaching Cumberland say that the law-defying operators have been travelling through West Virginia, Virginia and Pennsylvania reecntly, and as a result many residents of these states have been fleeced of considerable sums of money.

Up to now, nobody in this area has reported having been approached by these men, but it is believed that they may be on their way to Cumberland.

According to reports, these imposters call at homes, make a quick routine check, and then inform the resident that the house is infested with termites, whereupon they offer to rid the building of the pests.

After supposedly exterminating all the insects, the racketeers then present the owner of the house with a bill for the work, and informed soures say that as much as $300 has been charged by them.

These operators spend only several hours in the house, whereas legitimate and reliable extermination firms would need at least three days to complete the work.

The Cumberland Chamber of Commerce urges anyone who is approached by these fraudulent operators to call at the Chamber office for the names of legitimate extermination companies, approved by the Better Business Bureau.

Experimental Spray Helps Curtail Powdery Mildew

Experimental spraying of apple trees on the orchard of Theodore Stegmaier along Williams Road to combat powdery mildew has proved successful, Dr. L. O. Weaver, plant pathologist at the University of Maryland, reported after examining the trees this week.

Dr. Weaver said Stegmaier had complained to him last year about damage to his apples because of powdery mildew. Regular fungicides have not proved effective in combatting the disease so the pathologist recommended tests with a new preparation known as Karathane.

Success with the use of Karathane here and on the orchard of a Frederick County farmer near Thurmont have just about convinced Dr. Weaver to recommend the additional spray on all orchards plagued by powdery mildew.

While in this county, Dr. Weaver also visited the farms of Floyd Buser, Lawrence Twigg and Ephraim Stafford to inspect tomatoes, cantaloupes and other truck crops. He was accompanied by County Agent Joseph M. Steger.

Yesterday Steger and Boyd Whittle, a livestock specialist at the University of Maryland, visited several beef cattle farmers around the county yesterday.

Gas Co. Quizzed On Purchase Of Terra Alta Field

Officials Testify As Rate Hearing Resumes

BALTIMORE, June 30 (AP)—C. A. Massa, vice president of the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Co., was questioned at a Public Service Commission rate hearing today about the purchase of the Terra Alta natural gas field in nearby West Virginia.

Massa said Cumberland and Allegheny and its parent company, Columbia Gas System, bought the field because it needed a greater supply of the fuel. The 4-million dollar purchase price, he said, waas not out of line with what Cumberland and Allegheny would have had to pay for gas otherwise.

Cumberland and Allegheny, which serves about 20,000 customers in Cumberland and nearby areas of Allegany and Garrett counties, seeks increases which will provide it about $418,000 a year in additional income.

Assistant Vice President Testifies

This has been calculated to cost most customers about two cents a day, with those using gas for heating paying about $3.70 a month more during the eight months of the heating season.

Massa and A. B. Lauderbaugh, assistant vice president and engineer, had testified for the company at an earlier phase of the hearing in March. Today they came under cross examination by Thomas B. Finan, Cumberland city solicitor and Joseph Allen, peoples counsel to the PSC.

Finan sought to bring out that estimates on which the company based its plea for higher income did not take into consideration the greater profits it has in prospect through adding more heating customers.

The company witnesses countered with a declaration that neither had they included estimates on how much they would have to spend to lay new lines to serve those customers.

They contended the company's need for higher rates is based entirely on the results of operations in previous years.

Questions Field Purchase

In the earlier testimony, Cumberland and Allegheny said its return on investment has been running no more than 3 per cent. It asked up to 6 per cent, the level generally accepted as fair under Maryland laws.

Allen questioned Massa extensively about purchase of the Terra Alta gas field, bringing out the purchase price and inquiring about the maneuvering which went on within the utilities system before the buy was made.

Massa pointed out the company had been ordered to refuse new heating customers in the winter of 1951. Its purpose in buying the new gas field, he said, was to provide enough supply so new customers could be added.

L. W. Plasterer, assistant treasurer of the Columbia Gas System Service Corp. explained to the commission at this morning's session how he made up the consolidated tax return for the various units in the Columbia system.

The cross-examination is to continue tomorrow.

County Roads Cost $20,247 During May

Allegany County Roads Department expenses during the month of May amounted to $20,247, J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor, reported to the Board of County Commissioners.

Of that total $19,132.53 was spent on the roads, $685.20 county shop and yards, $$145.21 for grading Little League ball parks and $284.66 on the Shaft underpass.

The $19,132.53 for roads included $12,791.13 for labor, $2,091.98 for materials and $4,249.42 for equipment. The shop and yard costs included $506.84 for labor and $178.36 for equipment. Of the Little League park expenses $81.46 went for labor and $63.75 for equipment.

The Shaft underpass money was divided three ways, $120.71 for labor, $141.20 for materials and $22.75 for equipment. In a grand total recapitulation, Chapman showed that $13,500.14 went for labor, $2,233.18 for materials and $4,514.28 for equipment.

Chapman also submitted a breakdown which showed how much of the total was spent in each of the county's 35 election districts.

More was spent in Election District No. 3 at Flintstone, $3,525.31, than in any other district, according to the report. Other districts in which more than $1,000 was spent during May included District 29, LaVale, $2,661.91; District 2, Oldtown, $2,501.37; District 7, Cresaptown, $2,377.77; District 1, Little Orleans, $2,087.25, and District 12, Frostburg, $1,060.08.
